FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Discussion in the Senate on the Bills to Admit Southern States to Representation—The Tax Bill Discussed in the House—No Final Action.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 5, 1868.

SENATE.

Petitions from the West in favor of an eight hour law, and from the cigar makers of Indiana for a modification of the tax on tobacco, were referred.

Mr. WILLIAMS introduced a bill concerning land claims in Arkansas. Referred.

Mr. SHERMAN called up the bill relating to United States notes, and the substitute of the Committee, providing that any contract hereafter made specifically payable in coin, shall be legal and valid, and may be enforced according to its terms, notwithstanding any similar bill relating to United States notes.

The Arkansas bill came from the House and the Senate insisted on its amendment, and ordered a Committee of Conference.

Mr. TRUMBULL called up the House bill to admit North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama. He explained that in the substitute the Committee had stricken out Alabama, and that by mistake Florida was inserted, contrary to the opinion of the majority of the Committee, though he personally had favored inserting it. He stated the number of votes cast for and against the Constitutions in the States enumerated, and in the matter of Florida read a communication from the General of the Army, enclosing a telegram from Gen. Meade, dated Atlanta, June 3d, 1868. Gen. Meade's telegram states the majority in favor of the Constitution in Florida at 5,050.

Mr. TRUMBULL proceeded to explain the substitute of the Committee, which has already been published.

Mr. WILSON moved to amend by inserting Alabama.

Mr. DRAKE argued that it was better to lay this bill aside until the Conference Committee had reported upon the fundamental conditions to be inserted.

Mr. SHERMAN urged the admission of Alabama, which was in better condition than any other to maintain and nine-tenths of whose loyal people were in favor of the Constitution.

Mr. STEWART also favored the admission of Alabama.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN would vote for a separate bill to admit Alabama, but thought it would be unwise to saddle this bill with additional weight.

Mr. HOWARD suported the bill with Alabama left out and Florida in, the theory of the reconstruction acts having been that when a majority of the registered voters desired the admission of a State, it should be admitted.

Mr. BUCKALEW believed the simple fair and honest way would be to recognize the defeat of the Constitution and hold another election.

Mr. CONKLING suggested that it would not be in the interest of reconstruction to include Alabama. They might in the future. It was an unwise act to change the provision that excluded her.

Mr. HENDRICKS opposed the establisment of a Constitution for Alabama, after it had been rejected by the people under laws passed by Congress. To admit Alabama after that vote was little short of fraud.

Mr. MORTON had no hesitation in voting for the immediate admission of Alabama, but as some Senators had intimated objections, he must vote against the amendment and support a bill for her separate admission.

Mr. WILSON would admit all the States without reference to how their votes would be cast at the next election. He had never had any doubt of the result and would vote for his amendment if he voted alone.

Mr. YATES had long believed none of the rebel States should be re-admitted until it was shown that a majority of their people were loyal, though as a choice of evils he might vote for this bill.

Mr. DOOLITTLE made an elaborate argument on the general subject of reconstruction and negro equality. His oposition was based on the belief that Congress violated the Constitution in assuming the right to dictate who shall vote at the south and to change State Constitutions at pleasure. He insisted strongly on the negroe's unfitness for self-government.

Mr. CONKLING defended the provision requiring a majority of the registered voters for the adoption of a Constitution.

After a long debate, and without action on the bill, the Senate went into Executive session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. LAWRENCE, of Ohio, presented a resolution of the Ohio Legislature or a survey of the Miami & Erie Canal for the purpose of enlarging it to the capacity of a ship canal. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. BLAIR, from the Conference Committee on the army appropriation bill, made a report which was agreed to.

The House proceeded, as the business of the morning hour, to the consideration of reports of a private character from Committee.

The joint resolution to advance Captain Thomas N. Stevens twenty-one numbers on the list of Captains in the navy, for services during the war, was passed, as also one for the restoration of Captain Jas. H. Armstrong from the retired list to active list of the navy.

Mr. JONES introduced a bill to erect United States Court rooms, post office, &c., in Covington, Ky. Referred.

Mr. PERHAM, from Committee on invalid pensions, reported a bill relating to pensions. The first section construes the existing pension laws so as to give precedence to relatives of deceased persons having neither widow nor child, in the following order:—1st. mothers; 2d. fathers; 3d. orphans, brothers and sisters, who shall be pensioned jointly if there be more than one. The other sections apply to matters of detail.

After discussion and explanation, the bill passed.

Mr. DRIGGS introduced a bill to authorise the front proprietors on Menamee River, in Michigan and Wisconsin, as riparian owners, to have surveyed, and to enter the waste lands on that river. Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Tax bill, the sixth section, which gives the appointment of all revenue officers to the Commissioner, being under consideration.

A large number of amendments were offered, but, after considerable discussion, they were all rejected or withdrawn, and the question taken on Mr. Garfield's motion to strike out the section, which was carried—64 to 54.

The Committee then proceeded to the consideration of the seventh section, which provides for a Supervisor of Internal Revenue for each Judicial District, and regulates his duties, &c. The provision that he shall have power to transfer officers from one distillery or place of duty to another was, on motion of Mr. SCHENCK, struck out.

The eighth section was considered. It regulates the duties of Internal Revenue storekeepers.

Several amendments of detail were offered by Mr. SCHENCK and agreed to.

Mr. LOGAN moved to strike out the whole section, because it provided for bonded warehouses, and if the whisky tax were reduced, and to be collected at the still worm, the only way in which the tax could be collected, there would bo no use of bonded warehouses.

Mr. SCHENCK opposed and Mr. LOGAN supported the proposition.

The House took a recess.

EVENING SESSION.

Mr. JUDD withdrew his motion to strike out the eighth section, with the understanding that the section be reserved for amendment in view of future action on the whisky tax.

No amendments were made to the several following sections.

The fourteenth section was, on Mr. SHENCK'S motion, struck out.

Several amendments of detail were made to the sixteenth section.

Several amendments were offered reducing the salaries of assessors, but all were rejected.

Sections 17th to 21st, inclusive, were passed over without amendment.

Mr. JENCKES moved a verbal amendment to the twenty-second section, when the Committee rose and the Speaker presented a message from the President in reference to trials of American citizens in Great Britain. Adjourned.

TRADE CONVENTION.

Constitution Adopted—Preamble Agreed To—Permanent Officers Elected.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—The Constitution was considered and sections adopted in substance as follows:

ARTICLE 4—Sec. 5. Vacancies in the Executive Council shall be promptly filled by constituent Associations.

ARTICLE 5—Sec. 1. Prescribes the duties of Secretary.

ARTICLE 6—Sec. 1. Annual meeting to be held on the first Wednesday in December, the place to be designated at the previous meeting by a majority of delegates.

Sec. 2. Special meetings to be held on the call of eight members of the Executive Council.

Sec. 3. Forty members shall constitute a quorum.

Sec. 4. Circular notices of meetings to be served by the Secretary on all constituent Associations thirty days before the meeting, the object to be stated.

Sec. 5. Meetings of the Executive Council shall be held annually on the day preceding every yearly meeting of the Board, and at such other times as may be provided in the by laws.

ARTICLE 7—Sec. 1. Assessments for expenses of Board to be made pro rata by the Executive Council or constituent Associations.

ARTICLE 8—Sec. 1. Questions or resolutions, except those involving points of order or referring to matters of courtesy, can only be submitted by constitutional bodies of the Board. Subjects for consideration must be placed in the hands of the Secretary at least thirty days previous to the annual or special meeting, provided any subject may be considered on a two-thirds vote of the delegates present.

ARTICLE 9—Sec. 1. Constituent assemblies who violate the laws of the Board may be expelled by a two-thirds vote of all the delegates, but not exempted from assessments for the current year. Sec. 2. Constituents associations may withdraw on submitting a formal request to the annual meeting and full payment of dues.

ARTICLE 10. Sec. 1. This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of members in annual Convention, notice thereof having been submitted to the Secretary by a constituent body at least sixty days previously and transmitted by the Secretary in circular copies to the constituent bodies at least thirty days before the meeting.

ARTICLE 11. Sec. 1. The present meeting shall be regarded the first meeting of the National Board of Trade, and is empowered to elect officers and act upon all papers and resolutions laid before it.

This concludes the Constitution.

The preamble was then agreed to, stating the objects of the body to be to secure unity and harmony of action in reference to commercial usages, customs and laws, and especially to procure the proper consideration of questions pertaining to financial, commercial and industrial interests of the country.

At the afternoon session Mr. Elliott nominated Frank Fraley, of Philadelphia, for President. Gen. Hiram Walbridge seconded the nomination. Mr. Fraley received fifty-five votes, and Jno. A. Gano, of Cincinnatti, two votes.

Mr. Fraley was declared elected, and Hamilton A. Hill, of Boston, and W. Trenholm, of Charleston, were appointed to conduct him to the chair.

Upon assuming the functions he returned his heartfelt thanks to the Convention and was overwhelmed at this distinguished mark of confidence.

The thanks of the Board were tendered to Charles G. Nasero, of Boston, temporary Chairman, for the able and impartial manner in which he discharged the duties. Mr. Nasero made a graceful reply.

The following gentlemen were elected Vice Paesidents from the cities named: R. Branch, Richmond; W. L. Trenholm, Charleston; George A. Fosdick, New Orleans; U. P. Armstrong, Louisville; E. A. Stannard, St. Louis; John A. Gano, Cincinnati; Wm. Egan, Chicago; H. B. Bridges, Detroit; J. C. Converse, Boston; John H. Boynton, New York; Albert Shumaker, Baltimore; Wm. Brighton, Milwaukee; George H. Thurston, Pittsburgh; John B. Brown, Portland. Adjourned till to-morrow.

Terrible Wind Storm.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SANDUSKY, O., June 5.—A terrible gale of wind, accompanied by rain, passed over this city this afternoon doing considerable damage. The roof of the C. S. & C. Railroad warehouse was torn off and fell upon the propellor Orentez, lying at an adjoining dock, tearing away her smoke stack and injuring three men, two of them seriously. Trees were uprooted, chimneys and sheds torn down, and much property damaged in all parts of the city.

Reformed Church Synod.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HUDSON, June 5.—At the session of the Reformed Church Synod to-day, Rev. Dr. Ferris asked to be excused from service on the Board of Foreign Missions.

A communication was received from the classes of Wisconsin, representing Free Masonry as pernicious to the welfare of the Church.

Chinese Embassy Officially Received—Nominations Made by the President—Nominations Confirmed—Coal Trade with Canada—Iron Clads Detained at New Orleans, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 5, 1868.

CHINESE EMBASSY PRESENTED.

To-day the Chinese Embassadors and suite repaired to the State Department and were there joined by the Secretary of State, and the party then proceeded to the Executive Mansion. The presentation ceremonies were witnessed from the vestibule by crowds of ladies and gentlemen, the door being open. The high officials respectively were introduced to the President by the Secretary of State, and brief remarks were made by Mr. Burlingame and the President. The Embassy were then introduced to members of the Cabinet. The President exchanged a few words with the Chinese through the interpreter. All seemed pleased with the interview. The Embassy returned to the State Department, where they were entertained with a collation.

NOMINATION BY THE PRESIDENT.

The President to-day nominated Martin McMahon, of New York, Minister Resident at Paraguay, vice Washburne, resigned; W. H. Parker, Secretary of the Territory of Idaho, vice Howell; Nathan Goff, Jr., U. S. District Attorney for West Virginia; ex-Congressman John S. Wilson, of Norfolk, Va., to be District Attorney for the Virginia District, in place of L. H. Chandler, whose commission will expire on the 30th of June.

DUTY ON COAL.

The British Minister, it is said, has addressed a letter to the Secretary of State, calling attention to the fact that the Canadian Government admits American coal free of duty. It has resisted the pressure of Nova Scotia coal interests to impose a duty of fifty cents per ton on foreign coal, which would exclude American coal from Western Canada, a million dollars, worth of which was consumed in that section last year, and that this course has been adopted by the Canadian Government in the hope that the Government of the United States would sanction some reciprocal legislation. The British Minister asks whether the Government is prepared to consider the question. The matter having been referred to the Secretary of the Treasury, it is said he replied that Congress having abrogated the old reciprocity treaty, he did not consider it proper that the Executive should reopen the question, unless Congress shall give some indication of its desire to do so. The papers are before the Committee of Ways and Means.

GUNBOATS DETAINED.

The Secretary of the Treasury has sent fresh instructions to New Orleans for the detention of the iron-clad Oreta and Catawba, it being stated they intend to leave there professedly on an experimental trip, but really for Peru. It has been ascertained that though the original purchase price was $755,000, the vessels had been sold by Swift & Co. to the Peruvian Government for $2,000,000, three-fourths of which had actually been paid.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate to-day confirmed the following nominations: H. G. Worthington, of Nevada, Minister resident at Argentine Republic, vice Asboth, deceased; Alfred Allen, of Kentucky, Consul at Foochow, China; Thomas B. Asten, Assessor of Internal Revenue, Eighth District, New York; Commodore Thos. Turner, Rear Admiral, on active list, and Capt. J. L. Worden, Commodore.

NAVY GAZETTE.

Rear Admiral Thomas J. Craven will be detached from the command of the Navy Yard at Mare Island, California, on the 1st of August, and ordered to the command of the North Pacific squadron; Commodore Jas Alden is ordered to the command of Mare Island Navy Yard.

THE LAST OF THEM.

The State Department is in receipt of intelligence that Dennis O'Connor, the last imprisoned American citizen in Ireland, has been released and is now on his way to the United States.

CUSTOMS.

The receipts of customs for the week ending May 30th were $2,944,767.

New Jewish Temple at Cincinnati.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 5.—The ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the new Jewish Temple, corner 8th and Mound streets, were performed this afternoon. A very large audience was present, composed of members of the various Hebrew churches, and many of our prominent Protestant ministers. An eloquent and able address was delivered by Dr. Isaac M. Wise, pastor of the Plum street Jewish Temple. Among the articles deposited under the corner stone were copies of all the Cincinnati papers, Hebrew papers of New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco, Declaration of Independence, Constitution of the United States, Washington's Farewell Address and Articles of Confederation. The Temple will be one of the finest in this country when completed.

Railroad Difficulty Settled.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 5.—The committee appointed by the New York stockholders of the Chicago & Rock Island Railroad returned from Davenport to-night, Mr. Tracy with them. All matters are amicably adjusted. The board of directors reorganized by the appointment of David Davis, W. F. Appleton and Wilson G. Hunt. This action of the board was subsequently ratified by the stockholders. The issue of the 49,000 shares of stock is opposed, and the immediate construction of the road to Council Bluffs ordered. All suits are to be withdrawn, and Mr. Tracy retains the management.

Base Ball Match.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 5.—The Athletics, of Philadelphia, and Buckeyes, of Cincinnati, played a game of base ball this afternoon, on the Buckeyes' ground. About three thousand people were present. The playing of both clubs was good. The score stood, Athletics, 22; Buckeyes, 8.

Convention of Medical Superintendents.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, June 5.—The Convention of Superintendents of Insane Asylums adopted a memorial to Congress asking relief from political disabilities for Superintendents of like institutions at the South.

FROM EUROPE.

Church Suspensory Bill Passed in English House of Commons—The Emperor of Austria and the Pope.

[By telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 5.—In the House of Commons this evening an amendment to the suspensory bill was offered, placing the office tenure under the Mayoonth College grant on the same basis as Living's in the Irish Church. The amendment was opposed as destructive and not suspensory in accordance with the character of the bill under consideration, and was rejected by the House. The House then voted in favor of permitting new appointments to be made to Maynooth College, and also in favor of the continuance of the regium donum during the pleasure of Parliament. The suspensory bill was then passed in Commons. The announcement of the result was received with cheers.

AUSTRIA.

LONDON, June 5,—The Emperor of Austria asserts he had to make his choice of two alternatives, the signing of the recent laws hostile to the Concordat, or the abdication of the throne, and he chose the former. This explanation is intended to soften the resentment of the Pope for a violation of the Concordat.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON, June 5—Evening.—Consols, 94⅞@95; ex. dividend bonds, 72⅝; Erie 45¾; Illinois Central. 87¾.

FRANKFORT, June 5.—Five-twenty bonds 77⅝.

LIVERPOOL, June 5.—Yarns and fabrics at Manchester steady. Breadstuffs and provisions unchanged. Turpentine, 28s. 6d. Petroleum firm. Sugar quiet.

ANTWERP, June 5.—Petroleum, 44f.

U. P. General Assembly.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TUESDAY, June 2.—Dr. Gray, from the Judicial Committee, presented a report on the enquiry by the Presbytery of Boston, Is it lawful for a man to marry the niece of his deceased wife? The question was answered in the negative and supported by a most cogent and convincing argument. The report was adopted by a unanimous vote of the Assembly. The report of the Committee on the state of religion represented the reports of the Presbyteries as unsatisfactory on this subject and proposed several topics to be noticed in future reports, in order to promote data for a satisfactory narrative of religion.

A Committee was raised to select from the second volume of the new version of psalms, such as had received a vote of over fifty majority and were judged worthy of approval, reported and their report was adopted.

Dr. J. Douglas, delegate from the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, was introduced and addressed the Assembly. He expressed his own desire and that of his Synod for union with the U. P. Church, that they had appointed a Committee to meet a similar Committee of this Assembly, which he hoped would be raised, to initiate measures for the speedy accomplishment of this desirable object. His eloquent speech was well received by the Assembly, and the response of the Moderator was hoppy and cordial.

The report of the Committee on the Board of the Freedmen's Mission was adopted. It appropriates $13,000 to carry on the work during the coming year.

Dr. Scott read a letter or address to the people on the subject of Christian beneficence and the duty of sustaining the Church liberally in all her operations was read and adopted. It presents the duty in a very clear and convincing light.

In the evening the subject of education in our colleges and theological seminaries was freely discussed. Dr. A. Brown, President of Westminster College, made an eloquent appeal in behalf of the educational interests of the Church.

New York City Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—Ex-Revenue Collector Theophilus C. Callicott was sentenced to pay a fine of $10,000 and to be imprisoned two years in the Albany Penitentiary for defrauding the Government. Richard C. Enright was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment and $2,500 fine, and John S. Allen to one year's imprisonment and $2,000 fine.

BREVET BRIG. GEN. MILLER—an army officer after Mr. Johnson's own heart—having been requested, last week to contribute towards the decoration of the Union soldiers' graves at Arlington, achieved ephemeral fame by replying (we omit the expletive) thus: "By —— (excuse my language, gentlemen), I would not decorate one grave unless I decorated the other." And so deeply incensed was this officer of the United States army because Gen. Grant, Mr. Garfild and others would not make the Arlington ceremony a commemoration of the Lost Cause, that he declined to contribute a dollar.

Railway Items.

AN important railroad project is on foot in Delaware, by which the city of Wilmington will be connected with the Western borders of Pennsylvania, by a route passing through the southern counties of the State, Chester, Lancaster, York, Adams, Franklin, Bedford, Somerset, Fayette and Green. The Wilmington people express their willingness to do their share of the work, and the friends of the enterprise contend, that if the people residing in the counties through which the proposed road will pass, will do theirs, there will be no difficulty in bringing about a successful practical result. It is claimed by the Wilmington people that the Brandywine and Christiana rivers afford not less than twelve miles of frontage suitable for wharves, between the city proper and the Delaware, that the harbor afforded by the mouth of the Christiana is a natural harbor of safety for shipping, and the only one of importance on the west bank of the Delaware, above the Breakwater, at Cape Henlopen. —Philadelphia Star.

ON FRIDAY evening last a meeting was held at Fort Wayne, at which were present Mr. Cass, President of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, Mr. L'Hommedieu, of the C., H. & D. Railroad, Mr. Edgarton, of the Grand Rapids Railroad, and the President and Directors of the Richmond & Fort Wayne Company. The result was an agreement by which the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, with the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Company join, pro rata, in guaranteeing the interest on $1,000,000 bonds, to be used in purchasing the iron, chairs and spikes. These companies also agree to furnish the rolling stock in the proportion of 148 to 90 miles. The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and Eaton & Richmond Companies, are to run the road on joint pro rata account with the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago.

ON the 31st December, 1866, there were in England and Wales 283 railway companies whose lines were open for traffic, with a total mileage of 8,791, of which 16 companies alone owned, leased or worked 8,481 miles. In Scotland at the same period there were 31 companies with 2,244 miles of railway open for traffic; and in Ireland there were 39 companies, with a total mileage of 1,799.

A FIRM in Franklin, N. H., are building a locomotive for use on the Mount Washington Railway. Its boilers are upright, and contain three hundred and eighty tubes, with five hundred square feet of heating surface. The cylinders are ten inches in diameter, with 16-inch stroke. This engine is coupled in the rear end of the train and pushes the cars up the declevity.

THE New York Central Railroad employs 75 operators on its telegraph line, 21 of whom are ladies, and they receive the same compensation as men. There are sent 25,000 messages per month, which average 30 words each, and 100,000 train reports are recorded every year. Any car on the road can be found in 30 minutes, and its contents noted.—Rochester Union.

HORSE railroads are increasing all over the country. The latest railroad statistics that have been published show that there are now in the United States 983 miles of horse railroads. Boston has 169 miles; New York, 179; Philadelphia, 192; Brooklyn, 179.

A NEW difficulty is likely to delay the opening of the Mount Cenis Summit Railway, it "having been found that the play in the springs of the engine has a tendency to tear up the centre rail gripped by the auxiliary wheels."

THE managers of the western roads centering at Toledo have decided to build a road from Akron to that city. It is to be incorporated as the Toledo and Akron Railroad.

"Free Religion."

A Convention of "Free Religionists" was recently held at Boston, the proceedings of which may be judged by the annexed report of what was said by one of the clerical speakers:

John Weiss, Rational minister at Waterbury, Mass., took the floor, and made a positively unreportable speech on the "Essential Jesus." The point of his address was that Jesus Christ was as much and no more of a man than any true man of to-day. He admitted him to be a high and noble type of humanity, but he scouted the idea of his being supernatural, or of his being born in any way different from which John Smiths are born, or to his ever having worked miracles, or ever having resurrected himself.

It is necessary, contended Mr. Weiss, "to empty the mind of all belief in the miraculous, of all belief in the preternatural; of all past or present belief in supernaturalism; to remand ourselves to the operation of our own intelligence; to the strictly scientific movement of God's thought; of the divine mind as it is presented to the daily facts of the universe, of history, of the ordinary life of men and women; to believe nothing which does not belong to the logic of God. Faith in God's mind; not in Scripture, not in any story of the Old and New Testaments, but faith in the ordinary processes of history, of psychology, of anthropology, and of all scientific and vital truth—that is what is required." This is what Mr. Weiss announced, and illustrated by many forms of illustration, by impassioned appeal, and by fervid, electric oratory. He pictured "the man Jesus Christ standing beside Colonel Shaw on the parapet of Fort Wagner, and saying to him, "Do you believe my miracles, do you believe in me? If not, stay your hand, hold back your forces." Then would Shaw reply, "Away with you and your miracles; I have a miracle to work to-day, and perhaps a resurrection to achieve, truer than the resurrection reported of you—a resurrection which you, more than all other men, know is not true. Am I for you? Yes if you are for the slave; yes, if you are for free America; if not, no, and let me to my work." So impassioned did Mr. Weiss become here, that he fired the audience, or rather congealed it, into perfect silence, which was almost painful. The morning session then closed.

IN Cambridge, Ohio, on Tuesday night, B. F. Sipes, proprietor of the Washington House, was killed by a boarder named Kennon. Sipes broke into Kennon's room in order to extinguish a light which he had left burning, and which, as Kennon was in the habit of going to bed drunk, was feared might set fire to the house. Just as the landlord forced open the door, the boarder shot him with a musket, causing death almost instantly.

THE Union Republican Convention of Bedford county, will meet on the 6th inst., to nominate a county ticket and offer names for members of Congress, additional Law Judge and members of the Legislature.

The Republican Candidates.

In the Republican nominees, Grant and Colfax, we have two more illustrations of the American way in which some rise to the highest political honors by the sheer force of their own inherent qualities. Both of them have been working men, according to the most practical meaning of that word. Neither of them had names; neither of them had fortunes; neither of them had the advantages of the higher culture. A few years ago both of them were poor, unknown, struggling workmen—one a printer, the other a tanner, one a country editor, the other an unambitious trader.

In widely different careers they have risen, and by means as widely different as their characters. In three stormy years GRANT rose to greatness on the battle-field; more slowly COLFAX has risen to prominence in the political arena. The grave, stern soldier—the shrewd, bland politician—the quiet worker, the voluble speaker, both depended upon themselves for success, and wrought out their careers by the exercise of their own native powers. It is to their own character and deeds alone that they owe the fact that they are now in the front of the nation and their party, and in the elevated position of candidates for the two highest offices in the gift of the American people.—N. Y. Times.

A Faithful Representative Renominated.

The Republicans of Beaver county have re-nominated the Hon. Thomas Nicholson for Assembly. This was expected by every Republican in the State who has become familiar with the valuable services of Mr. Nicholson. Whilst he not only watches and cares for the immediate interests of his constituents, he can truly be looked upon as the representative of the great State of Pennsylvania. Acquainted with the financial affairs of the Commonwealth, in its fullest sense, he always watched the interests of the taxpayers with a jealous eye, and saved them many thousand dollars, which might have otherwise, under a mistaken policy or a liberal spirit, been appropriated for useless purposes. The interests of the State need such true defenders, and we congratulate the Republicans of Beaver county that they will contribute their full share. —Harrisburg Telegraph.

IT is a noticeable fact that all the Union Generals of any merit are with the Republicans in the present campaign. Gen. Grant heads them; Gen. Sherman supports him privately; Gen. Sickles, Gen. Pleasanton, and others, do the same publicly, and these are met half way, among the people, by General Approbation, General Enthusiasm and a General Determination to elect General Grant by an overwhelming majority in November.

—The Detroit Post gives the official canvass of the votes cast at the April election in Michigan as follows: Total for the Constitution, 71,756; against, 110,582; annual sessions, 25,019; biennial sessions, 100,314; prohibition, 72,473; against, 86,143; majority against the Constitution, 38,826; for biennial sessions, 75,295; against prohibition, 13,660.

—The New York Tribune says of the Presidential election: Upon the heavy electoral vote of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio depends the result of the contest. The Republican party must win if it carries either. The Democratic party may win if it carries them all.

—Mr. Crabtree, father of "Lotta," was arrested in New York on Wednesday last, but there being no charge preferred against him, he was released. His wife and daughter have arrived in New York and deny the statements of the St. Louis papers.

—The Sheriff of Dearborn county, Ind., has made affidavit that John Franklin, of Cincinnati, had nothing to do with the arrest of Coburn and McCoole; that the arrest was made by Col. Wood; and that he (the Sheriff) never saw Franklin.

THE UNTAMEABLE SHREW.

Among the many relics of past times which arrest attention in the narrow busy and intricate streets of Vienna, is an inscription still legible beneath a fresco-painting, which adorns the facade of an old gable-ended house, in ancient days numbered 311, but now number 3, in the Bognergasse. The painting represents a woman wrestling with the devil, and inscribed beneath it are the following lines:

> Pestilenz und Noah ein Uebel ist,
> Krieg ein arger Zeitvertreib,
> Schlimmer als des Teufels Tuck and List
> Gott behüt uns, ist ein boses Weib.
>
> (Want and Disease are woes indeed,
> And War is scarce less dire;
> Fiercer than war, disease, or need,
> God help us, is a woman's ire.)

In the beginning of the 16th century it appears that this same Bognergasse, or Bow street, was the exclusive domain—not of beaks and bobbies—but of bow and arrow manufacturers, who, even thus long after the invention of gun-powder, plied there a flourishing trade. The house No. 311, was at that time occupied by an honest; peaceable burgher, a native of Siebenburger, one Kasper Pergauer by name, who had settled there with his newly married wife, Frau Ursula, of whose stately figure and comely face the fond hnsband was not a little proud; moreover she had brought him a handsome dowry, and the young couple may be said to have started in life under the most promising conditions,, and were accordingly the envy of many of their neighbors.

Kaspar carried on the business of bow and arrow maker, and being a man of orderly habits, regular life, and industrious propensities, he prospered accordingly. Unhappily he was not blessed with offspring, and as Dame Ursula had no taste for cats, dogs, parrots, or any other components of the menagerie which are usually the substitute for a childless menage, she gradually became self-centred, and her temper began to afford external evidence that all was not right within. It never occurred to her to bestow her unoccupied energies on those she might have helped, nor to seek for any useful employment of her time; the consequence was, that, dissatisfied with herself, she knew not why, her ill-humor vented itself on her unlucky husband, when it had exhausted itself on her servants. So sour did her disposition grow, aggravated by the dissatisfaction she created in those around her, that it at length became impossible to keep either domestics or apprentices in the house, and then her undivided wrath fell with deadly effect upon the head of the unhappy Kaspar. With servants and apprentices, disappeared also acquaintances and neighbors, and Kaspar, whose home had once been so bright, tranquil and happy, felt as if a blight had fallen upon all his prospects. His house became dingy and neglected, his little garden was overgrown with weeds, and, what was worse, his business began to flag, and he foresaw that a change in his position was imminent. Kaspar began to sink under the weight of his misery, in which he could only see one consolation, viz: that matters could scarcely be worse. Reduced to his own company, for he dreaded that of his wife, he would sneak out of his house unobserved and steal to the bank of the river, there to muse on his wretched fate, and sometimes to try to muster courage to plunge into the current, as the only way of getting rid of the chain he could not break.

One day he had wandered as far as Petersfriedhof, sauntering listlesslv along, with his hands swinging behind him, muttering to himself the complaints he could no longer confide to others: "All is in vain," he said, "Heaven is deaf to my cry, and all my entreaties are spurned; as I can obtain no mercy from above, am I not justified in trying what I can get from below?" But it was the first time the thought had crossed him, and the sound of his own words startled him, as he pronounced them. He paused, aghast at the desperation which had wrung rom him so formidable an idea. "What am I saying?" exclaimed he; and can it be indeed I—I, Kaspar Pergauer, who would——"

He was interrupted by a hollow and unnatural laugh beside him, and an unearthly voice replied to his half-uttered question. "Ah, my dear fellow." it said, "do'nt be so very particular; if you are in a mess, get out of it the best way you can. Here I am the moment you call me—Lucifer in person, at your service, and ready to do what you want—that is, if I can."

Kaspar had not expected so ready a response to his appeal, and he stood pale and trembling, not knowing whether to regard the strange dark figure that stood before him as a friend or foe; at these last words, however, he recovered some of his courage, and repeating them in accents of astonishment; he seemed to be calling in question the identity of the stranger.

"Well," said Lucifer; for there really was no mistake as to who he was; "but the job you want to give me is not one that can come under the category of ordinary work, you see Heaven will have nothing to do with it, and although, no doubt, it is more in my way, yet I don't promise, off-hand to succeed,"

"Then I wonder why you offered yourself," said Kaspar, somewhst tartly, for he was grievously disappointed.

"Now don't put yourself in a pet, Master Kaspar," replied Satan, "or I shall think yor wife has some excuse for her temper; you haven't heard me to the end. Your life is intolerable, as it stands, I believe?" and he paused for Kaspar's gloomy assent. "Well," he resumed, "I will do my best to relieve you of your burden. If I succeed I certainly expect to be remunerated, and I shall have honestly earned my reward," and he placed his hand on his left side, just as if he had a heart there; but Kaspar didn't notice it. "If I don't," he proceeded, "try some one cleverer; I shall have left you no worse off than I found you."

"True," said the henpecked husband, "but I must know what you consider a cure, and what are the terms you expect?"

"Prudent and fair. Master Kaspar," said the devil, patting his new client on the back, and cleverly concealing his claws. "I like dealing with a man of business. You shall know my conditions. Indeed, if you are not satisfied with my word, we will put it down in red and white; you know, I daresay." added he, with a wink, "what description of writing-fluid we shall employ for this sort of deed?"

"A verbal undertaking will do," said Kasker, with something very like a shudder. "So as you accomplish the task, I want no written agreement."

"I promise and undertake, then," resumed the Devil, solemnly, "to treat Dame Ursula for the ugly moral disease which besets her; and I require three days for the purpose, at the end of which time, if I restore her to you completely cured, she will be so mild, gentle and amiable, that neither you nor any one else will recognize her as the same person. You shall then enjoy many years of peace and happiness with her, till the expiration of the term of your natural life, when your soul becomes my sole * * and absolute property; failing in this, I abandon her to you, and you to your ridiculous and most contemptible position; leaving you, however, as a consolation, the permission to make game of me for the rest of your life, and the certainty that I shall never show my face to you again. Now, I call that a very handsome offer—what say you to it?"

"I consent," replied Pergauer, rather sulkily; "any chance is preferable to leaving things as they are."

"Now then," resumed Satan, "follow my directions; take a holiday, and don't turn up for three days from this time—go, and enjoy your liberty."

On the following morning, with the first beam of the rising sun, Lucifer, in the form and garb of Karpar, stood by the bedside of Dame Ursula; he contemplated the sleeping vixen for a moment with some trepidation, but he had formed his plans. His first attempt at taming the shrew before him, was to be by means of gentleness and affection: so he bent down over the reclining form and impressed a passionate kiss upon the rosy lips. Ursula, disturbed thus suddenly from her downy slumber, opened her eyes, and before the tender culprit had time to withdraw, or even foresee what was coming, applied a well-directed box on his ear, making it ring again. Stunned by the unsympathizing reception, he retreated with speed, apprehensive of what might follow; and seating himsel in Kaspar's chair, apparently busy with his unfinished work, he began to consider what his next move should be in his critical game; for it was clear he had not as yet hit upon the right method. As may be supposed, a day thus untowardly begun, was not likely to proceed very favorably; and it is needless to recount the various scenes which succeeded each other between the strange couple as it wore on. Suffice it to say that by the time night came, the supposed husband's back was covered with stripes, and his face bore tokens of having come into close contact with the nails of Mrs. Pergauer.

"Finding the system of cajolery with which he had begun, thus fruitless in its results, the shrew-tamer proposed to himself to try next day what effect a little rational argument would produce. Having accordingly prepared his attack, he addressed her in a tone of great forbearance, placing her conduct before her in so true and startling a light that, taken completely aback by the force of his words, the scold for once lost her tongue, and sat mutely by, unable to find any reply to these just and temperate observations; but the storm was all the time brewing within, and the more she felt herself in the wrong, the more difficult did she find it to contain herself. Her only resource lay in the hope of silencing her admonisher by noise and invectives; she accordingly thundered forth a volley of abuse, and the dinner having now been put upon the table, on turning round to look for some weapon with which she could castigate him, her eye fell upon the tureen of scalding soup; this she seized, and in another moment the seething contents had bathed his head and shoulders and were running down his face and arms, placing him in a most pitiable plight. Blinded by the hot liquid, and breathless from the suddenness of the unwelcome shower-bath, Lucifer only recovered himself to hear the street door slammed to with violence, and to perceive that his temporary wife had flung herself out of the house. "Hell and pitch!" he exclaimed, "what the deuce does this mear? Is this virago of a woman going to defeat me with my own arms? Am I to stand by and see myself her sport? And yet it is beginning to look uncommonly as if I were going to get the worst of it. More than half the time I had given myself to subdue her villainous temper has expired, and I don't seem to be any nearer my aim than I was at first! I have, however, one more expedient in reserve, and I must manage to finish her off with that."

No sooner had Ursula returned home than the supposed Kaspar met her, and looking at her sternly, bade her follow him into the sitting-room, as he had something important to communicate to her. Arrived there, he locked the door and put the key in his pocket. "Sit down," he said, "and listen in silence, if you can, to what I have to say." Ursula stared and obeyed mechanically, for she was completely mystified by all these unusual manœuvres. "My patience," began he, "is at an end. I have made up my mind to endure your vile temper no longer. I have tried every proper and rational means of taming you, and I find that you have not the feelings of a woman, and cannot be treated as a reasonable being. I have now to tell you, once for all, that unless, from this hour, you renounce your violent ways, and behave decently and quietly as a respectable woman should, I mean to get myself formally separated from you, and to turn you out of doors." He paused, and for a moment, as he looked into the woman's astonished face, he believed he had at last succeeded in impressing her; but it was only for a moment. Her reply was only a loud scornful laugh, in the midst of which she began in her old way: "You absurd creature!" she said, "what new freak is this? Has your mind got a twist, for it seems as crooked as one of your own bows, that you think to intimidate me by such language as that? Go back to your work-shop, and try to earn something, instead of turning preacher and lecturing those who are in every way superior to yourself; and for your pains, take that! And she raised her hard for a powerful smack, but Lucifer was too quick for her this time. He seized her arm; she resisted, and then began a fierce struggle for victorv, in which it seemed doubtful—so well matched were the combatants—which would get the better of the other.

At last Satan found the day was going against him, and infuriated at the humiliating thought that he was to be vanquished by a woman, he roared out, "Stay, bad woman! Recognize me and be annihilated!" With these words, he threw off his disguise and stood before her in his real guise; but he had miscalculated the moral energy of his adversary. Ursula, even then, did not lose her self-possession, but seizing both his horns in her vigorous grasp she dragged him to the ground and there held him pinned, till he cried for quarter! This is the moment chosen by the artist for the moral painting in the Bognergasse which excited our curiosity.

The devil had how no choice but to confess himself, for once, out-done; he fled away with his tail between his legs, uttering a fiendish cry of impotent rage, and leaving Dame Ursula mistress of the situation.

Kaspar returned home on the appointed day, fully prepared for the event; he found his house a perfect Pandemonium; but he had learned that henceforward resistance would be useless, and that he must resign himself to endure what it was evident he could not cure. He accepted his trial in a spirit of true Christian submission to the will of Providence, and made it his daily habit to offer up his sufferings in expiation of the sins of his former life. He became a second Job, and when at last the welcome hour arrived that was to relieve him from his troubles, it was his turn to cheat the devil; for those who stood around his bed, declared that they saw his spirit ascend straight to Abraham's bosom. Over Ursula's subsequent fate the chronicler discreetly draws a veil, but hints that there is much probability in the popular report that when she departed this life, Lucifer took his revenge, and that no good angel interfered to dispute his claims to her soul.

RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers continue to recede steadily at this point, with four feet ten inches in the Monongahela, and five feet nine inches in the Allegheny. The weather yesterday looked very much like rain early in the day, being cloudy and close, but towards evening it cleared up, and there was a very pleasant breeze astir.

Business was moderately active yesterday, freights, apparently, being a little more abundant.

The Maggie Hays, Captain B. C. Martin is now in turn for St. Louis, and will doubtless be the first boat out.

Capt Ed. Evans, of the Westmoreland, is here on a visit to his family. Captain John Ioss, formerly of the Importer, went out in some capacity, we know not what, on the low-pressure Galetea.

The St. Charles arrived from Cincinnati on Thursday evening with a fair trip, and departed as usual last night. The Robert Moore arrived and departed for Portsmouth, as did also the Bayard for Parkersburg.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The America left for St. Louis about noon yesterday with a very good freight list, having about all she could take on the water.

The low-pressure Galetea, also departed for St. Louis yesterday pretty well loaded, drawing, it is said, four and a half feet of water. Her departure attracted considerable attention, as she is a rather novel specimen of marine architecture in these waters. It is claimed that she will be able to make from 15 to 20 miles per hour, up stream.

The Kate Putnam, from St. Louis, and Argosy, from Cincinnati, are among the first boats due.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Chronicle of Thursday: Capt. B. F. Davidson received a dispatch this morning announcing the sinking of the steamer Amelia Poe, at Milk River, on the Upper Missouri, 300 miles below Fort Benton. She is probably a total loss. The Poe was owned by Captains Thos. Poe, Jacob Poe, of Pittsburgh, B. F. and F. M. Davidson, of this city, was valued at $18,000 and insured for $12,000 in Cincinnati and Pittsburgh offices.

We understood this morning that the St. Marys will probably withdraw from the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati trade after this trip.

We understand that the United States Quarter Master at Omaha has decided that the Leni Leoti is not in a condition to proceed on her voyage, and has telegraphed for a boat to take her place.

The small stern-wheeler Bridgeport, hence for Fort Stephenson, with a cargo of Government freight, sunk on Tuesday, ten miles below Sioux City. Insured for $8,000 in the Boatmen's of Cincinnati, and Eureka, of Pittsburgh. The Princess, which sunk on Sunday night, above Lexington, was insured for $3,500 in the National, of Boston.

The Memphis Bulletin, of Monday, says: The Natrona, from Pittsburgh, arrived at the wharf yesterday with about fifty Pennsylvanians, who are going up the Currant river, one of the tributaries of the Black river, to colonize. They carry with them a portable saw mill, with which they intend to get out lumber for the New Orleans market.

A huge sand bar is beginning to show itself alongside of Sand Island near the foot of the Portland Canal, and bids fair to make Portland bar a formidable obstruction to navigation during the low water season. Portland bar is also nearing the surface, the break over it being plainly visible.

Capt. Brown, a well-known and esteemed Western steamboatman, died at Hannibal, Missouri, last night. The deceased has been engaged on the western rivers as Captain, Clerk, and Pilot on different boats for a period of twenty years. Among the boats he commanded were the L. M. Kennett, Ed. J. Gay, G. W. Graham, Mayflower, Gladitor, W. H. Osborne and Stonewall.

The towboats Boss and Lake Erie are anchored alongside of the island at Portland, and we guess will remain there until a rise on the falls.

The Only Chance arrived at Fort Benton on the 25th of May with 200 tuns freight—the first through cargo. No lightering. The St. Luke, which left St. Louis on the night of April 4th, arrived at Fort Benton May 28th, with all her freight. She made the trip in fifty-four days.

The Vicksburg Times says the Gov. Allen is falling behind every trip in her hour of arrival, and is now making no better time than the Grey Eagle did last season.

An Evansville telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial, says: The Goldfinch was out on a picnic excursion yesterday, and returned at 6 p. m., and dropped down to the bone-yard at 10 p. m., when she was discovered to be on fire. She burned to the water's edge, and sunk at the shore. The wind was blowing off the shore, and it was raining at the time, which saved the Phantom, lying immediately below the Goldfinch. She burned for over an hour, and presented a terrible grand appearance. She was a finely-finished boat, owned by Capt. Wm. Karr, of Osceola, valued at $16,000, and insured for $7,000. There are several theories as to the cause of the fire, one of which, and the most probable, is that a coal oil lamp burst in the cabin. No one was aboard but the Captain and watchman.

The St. Louis Democrat, in noticing the recent contest for St. Louis freights between the Leonidas and Captain Campbell's barges, remarks:

Here at St. Louis are all the elements and material for a fierce conflict for the carrying trade of New Orleans, but it is deferred. All is quiet. Barges and steamers alike are earning profits, and who so adacious as to declare they ought not?

The same paper also says: There is in port an ordinary sternwheel steamer, which has been owned and run four years by her present officers. She has been almost everywhere on the Western and Southern rivers, hardly ever laid up, and never in the four years made a losing trip. Beat that who can. Her managers are Pittsburgh men.

Will the Democrat give her name?

The pilot and engineer of the Andy Johnson thought to make a spec lately by buying silver from Norwegian passengers by paying for each Scandinavian dollar $1,10 in Uncle Sam's greenbacks. Great was their dismay to find their silver pieces worth just 66 cents in currency.—Dubuque Times, May 21st.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PORT OF PITTSBURGH,

CUSTOM HOUSE, May 1st, 1868.

Notice is hereby given that Sealed Proposals, accompanied by proper guarantees, according to forms to be furnished on application at this office, will be received thereat until 12 o'clock meridian, on the FIRST TUESDAY IN JUNE NEXT, for the supply of the Marine Hospital with the articles of provision, medicine, &c., enumerated in said forms. The quantities stated are estimated with reference to the usual number of patients in the Hospital; but the United States reserves the right to take more or less of said articles, accordingly as they may be actually required. If the articles delivered at the Hospital are not, in the judgment of the Physician, of the best quality, and adapted to the Hospital, he will be at liberty to reject the same, to purchase other articles in their stead, and to charge the contractor with any excess in cost over the contract prices.

The United States reserves the right to accept the proposals for the whole or any portion of the articles specified.

GEO. C. McLEAN, Surveyor and Agent.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

SATURDAY, JUNE 6, 1868

The Weekly Gazette, issued on Wednesdays and Saturdays, is the best and cheapest family newspaper in Pennsylvania. It presents each week forty-eight columns of solid reading matter. It gives the fullest as well as the most reliable market reports of any paper in the State. Its files are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county for reference in important issues to determine the ruling prices in the markets at the time of the business transaction in dispute. Terms: Single copy, one year, $1.50; in clubs of five, $1,25; in clubs of ten, $1,15, and one free to the getter up of the club. Specimen copies sent free to any address.

We print on the inside pages of this morning's Gazette: Second page: The Untameable Shrew, a pleasing story. Third page: Financial Matters in New York, Markets by Telegraph, River News, Imports, Railway Time Tables. Sixth page: Finance and Trade, Home Markets. Seventh page: Poetry, Miscellaneous Reading Matter.

Gold closed in New York yesterday at 139¾.

The term of Senator Williams, of Oregon, expires in 1871. His successor is therefore not to be chosen by the Democratic legislature recently elected.

A bill creating the new Territory of Wyoming, has passed the Senate and has many friends in the House. The Territory is to be created from the area now appropriated to Montana, Dakota, Colorado, Utah, and Idaho.

The President inaugurates the "moderate" policy for which Senator Henderson considers him pledged, by reconstructing the clerical force in the Departments. He has begun to turn out the few remaining Republicans, and when the job is completed, will turn his attention, it is supposed, to the Federal offices elsewhere.

A "strictly private and confidential" circular issued at Washington by a committee of the President's supporters, and addressed to all office holders in the country, soliciting contributions and money to a campaign fund, is published by the Pittsburgh Post, as "the Radical plan of levying black mail to elect Hiram." We presume that the error was unintentional and that our neighbor will correct it.

Hon. Edward McPherson, Clerk of the House of Representatives, has in press a Political Manual for 1868, in continuation of his valuable manuals for 1866 and 1867. No politician or journalist can afford to dispense with this excellent compendium of political history, which is more than ever valuable this year, since it will include all the interesting facts connected with the War Office, Impeachment, Grant's politico-military record, the data of progressive Reconstruction, together with a general summary of national politics and finance. The Manual will be the Vade Mecum of the approaching campaign.

The Democratic success in Oregon last Monday was not at all surprising. The State has always been regarded as either Democratic or doubtful, and its vote for Lincoln was the exception in its political history. On the same day, Monday, a special election was held in the Athens and Gallia Judicial district in Ohio, for an additional Judge, and the Republican candidate had a majority of 1,816, being a gain of 227 on the vote of October last. The four counties of this district give about 20,000 votes, quite as many as the entire State of Oregon. The two results may therefore fairly offset each other.

Retrenchment and Economy, proclaimed at Chicago as a National duty, are understood in Congress to mean something more than mere words. The appropriation bills, based upon the regular recommendations from the Executive departments, are cut down on all sides, with a view to meet a total reduction of at least one hundred and fifty millions of dollars in the next year's expenditures. The latest application of this pruning-knife was on Wednesday last, when the House was recommended to reduce the appropriations for the repair of certain public works from $6,150,500 down to $1,657,000, and the recommendation is likely to be adopted.

The State Guard heartily approves of the suggestion that the seat in the U. S. Senate, now occupied by Mr. Buckalew, should be refilled by Edwin M. Stanton. But our cotemporary is apprehensive that the succession will be determined, not by the merits of the candidate, but by less worthy conditions, and that discreditable means would secure the election, not to Mr. Stanton, but to some competitor infinitely less distinguished and meritorious. We assure the Guard that it is the unanimous sentiment, not only of Allegheny county but of Western Pennsylvania, that if Edwin M. Stanton will suffer his name to be presented as a candidate for the Senate, no competition, by whatever amount of intrigue or money it might be backed, could beat him, and we are so sure of it, that the feeling in this quarter is decidedly in favor of making the experiment.

PLUNDER TO BE RECLAIMED.

We stated, in yesterday's issue, some of the measures of leading importance which demand the attention of Congress, and should be settled in a practical shape, before the close of the current session. But there are still two subjects of great public interest to which we did not make especial reference, but which should receive the fullest consideration from Congress, with a view to the just claims of the Treasury and the expectations of the people. These are, first, the confiscated estates of Southern rebels which Mr. Johnson restored, as it is believed illegally, to their former owners, and, second, the millions of property in Southern railways and their equipment, which the President has bestowed upon his Southern friends, without a single mill of consideration therefor enuring to the Treasury. It may be remembered that these two matters have been already investigated, the facts in one case having been placed before the country in a minute and elaborate report from the Committee appointed for that purpose, and that the files of the Executive departments have also afforded, in response to an inquiry from the House, a full statement of the estates restored after confiscation. With the facts thus before Congress, we do not understand why the action which was justly anticipated has not yet been taken, If the President had legal warrant for thus surrendering many millions of property, readily available for the public needs, and which, if realized into the Treasury, would have considerably lightened the public burthens, the authority which justifies him should be responsibly declared, and Mr. Johnson and his friends should have the benefit of an acquittal from the very serious imputations which are now made against them. If, on the contrary, the President has, without consideration or lawful authority, given away to his friends and supporters, influential southern rebels, this immensely valuable property, and it may be lawfully reclaimed, it is the business of Congress to do it promptly and thoroughly. There are hundreds of miles of southern railways, which Federal money re-built, and many millions in value of rolling stock which Federal money paid for, bought and put on those railways by Federal officials while military operations were in progress, and yet it is known that every mile of the roads and every wheel of that stock has been turned over by Mr. Johnson to the old rebel stockholders in the roads respectively. There is also ground for believing that he has himself handsomely profited by these transfers, which were made upon valuations little more than nominal, if valued at all, and that he winks at the failure of the proper Department to enforce the payments from the long delinquent purchasers. In short the whole business of the Administration in these Southern railways, as well as in the confiscated estates given up, is believed to have been a gigantic swindle, an audacious, flagrant plunder of the Treasury, with official collusion and participation. If the plunder can be reclaimed, it is the business of Congress to do it.

IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

A bill has passed the Senate, providing that all contracts hereafter made specifically payable in coin, shall be valid, and may be enforced according to their terms. It is very much to be hoped that the House will concur and that the bill may become a law at the present session. A similar measure has frequently heretofore been suggested, and it is not long since we took occasion in this journal, to mention the very influential recommendation of the Boston Board of Trade in its behalf. It is a matter for congratulation that Congress has recognized in this way the intrinsic value of the suggestion, and that a step, so long and decided as this, is thus taken, directly leading to the reestablishment of solid values in the business of the country.

A plausible objection to this measure, that it may be abused as a cover for a violation of the laws against usury, has really no weight whatever. The contracts which are more generally tainted with usury contemplate loans or discounts for periods so short that the present margin, of say 39 to 40 per cent. between coin and currency, would be a shave which no borrower would be likely to stand. If he were so disposed, it would show him to be one of that class who find no difficulty in paying such rates for accommodations even under the most stringent existing laws. Moreover, the new law does not contemplate the abrogation of the legal provisions which already require for all contracts a legal consideration. The effect of the proposed Federal law will be to protect a large class of business men who prefer to conduct their operations on a solid hard-pan foundation, and the privilege it affords will be found to grow rapidly into general favor and adoption. To a corresponding extent, contracts in paper will diminish, and the more solid and permanent standard will, at a period not very far distant, be accepted as the controling basis of the business of the country. It is easy to see that a general return to specie values will be a result of the natural operations of the laws of trade, without compulsion, injustice, forcing any values, or causing any arbitrary losses. The transition will be imperceptible, and therefore, most convenient and practicable. And it will be irresistible, for conflicts between sound principles and unsound theories can always have but one ultimate result. We regard, therefore, this measure as of far more effective and salutary benefit to the business of the country, than could be achieved by the tinkering of the currency doctors in a life time.

The Nashville Press refers to the question of colored suffrage, in its general application at the South, in the following terms:

> We mean to manage the suffrage question just as we did the colored soldier question during the war; just as we did the colored suffrage question in Tennessee; in other words, we mean to fight for what we can get, and in the meantime educate the people up to our standard. We do not deny a child the right to read because we first try to teach it the alphabet. "Men are but children of a larger growth."

THE PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRACY AND THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The Pittsburgh Post, a candid, out-spoken organ of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania, takes the New York World sharply to task for substantially agreeing to the Republican theory of honest dealing with the public creditors. Our neighbor then proceeds, with great frankness, to declare what is the real sentiment of the Democracy of Pennsylvania, touching this question. The Post says:

> We trust the Democratic National Convention will be more explicit—that it will say distinctly, that the "letter and spirit" of the law authorizing the issue of the five-twenties, pledged to be paid to those who loaned their greenbacks to the government for these bonds. The Democracy will stand by the contract, and they have their minds made up as to what the contract calls for. It is a matter of vast import, to the present and to future generations. If these bonds can be paid, in strict compliance with the terms under which they were issued, in greenbacks, the national debt will be at once placed in a manageable shape—the pressure of taxation can be greatly reduced, and the country may hope to escape from that terrible financial system, erected by another government upon a vast public debt. * * * * * * * *
> If the "letter and spirit" of the agreement will deliver this nation from two thousand millions principal, and from one hundred and fifty millions annual interest, it is the highest duty of all good citizens to work that deliverance. It is a mighty and appalling combination to contend against, that of the claimants for this gigantic sum. But the law does not stipulate gold; the bonds do not call for it, and the framer of the law himself says the contract meant greenbacks. So let the friends of the people say when they meet in New York on the Fourth of July—a declaration which, if carried out, will contribute more to the security of human liberty and the rights of men than that of 1776. Without this declaration on its banner no party can, or ought to, succeed at the ensuing election.

We concur with the Post, that it is neither manly nor wise to attempt any disguise of the issue, and congratulate that journal upon the clear precision with which it has stated the real position of the uncompromising Democracy, viz: That they will "pay" the debt in paper money, thereby "reducing taxation," "escaping from the terrible financial system of a vast public debt," and "delivering this nation" from both principal and interest. As long as people are so sensitive about mere names, it is unnecessary to style this a policy of absolute repudiation. We are content for the present with placing these candid and remarkable avowals on the record, and shall rely upon our neighbor's well known consistency in adhering to them. Citizens who are interested, directly or indirectly, in the maintenance of the public faith will, in the meantime, pay due heed to this clear announcement of the real financial policy of the Democratic party, and govern themselves accordingly.

The way that Democratic voters are made in Virginia, is very forcibly illustrated by the recent publication of the text of the written contracts which the white planters and farmers of that State are found to be generally making with their black laborers and renters, this year. These articles, in addition to the usual specifications as to care of land, partition of crops, &c., include an agreement that the laborer or renter, will, "in voting; conform to the wishes and advice" of his white employer. As the latter is usually an ex-rebel, or a Democrat, or both, the proper inference may be readily drawn.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Baptist Anniversaries, held in New York recently, were of more than usual interest. An attempt was made to unite the Bible Union with the Bible Society, and to harmonize the divisions in the denomination which represent the new "immersing" and the old "baptising" versions. It is said the new version is growing in favor among the Baptists. The income of the Union was $192,000. The operations of the Home Mission Society have been quite successful last year. The contributions amounted to $135,000. The number of missionaries is 331, by whom 106 churches have been organized and 6,712 baptisms administered. The Independent contains an account of the effort to unite the Northern and Southern branches of the denomination, from which it appears the former inaugurated the movement by a Committee of the Northern Home Mission Society, which attended a late meeting of the Southern Society at Baltimore. Conciliatory addresses were delivered by several Southerners, that were well received. The proposition that the North should raise funds to be expended under Southern direction called out some severe animadversions.

According to an estimate of the New York Observer, the receipts of the national Societies for the last year amounted to $5,250,000, while those of New York city charities are about $1,063,000. This is a good showing of Christian philanthropy, and indicates that our Societies are maintaining their hold on the Church.

The amount of money appropriated by the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. for the support of their foreign and hôme mission work during the years 1865-1869, exceeds three and a half millions of dollars.

The American Unitarian Association are extending their mission work, especially in the form of Church extension. Assurance is given that one hundred thousand dollars will be expended this year.

At the yearly meeting of the Hicksite branch of the Society of Friends, held recently in New York, the cause of their decline in this country and other countries was dwelt upon to a considerable extent. The employment of laymen was urged, and the acknowledgement of the want of practical influence by the clergy, as a sign of the times, was regarded as a proof that the practice of the Friends in not having paid ministers, was a judicious one. The Hicksite branch of Friends are an offshoot from the original "orthodox" body, and are more progressive in their views than the latter. There is a difference in views among them on some points, but in many respects they hold to the same views as the Unitarians.

Dr. Peter Cartwright, one of the delegates to the late Methodist Conference at Chicago, now nearly eighty-three years of age, was among the active men in that body. His itinerancy extends through the long period of sixty-four years. He is now the presiding elder of Pleasant Plains district, Illinois Conference. He has served as presiding elder forty-nine years, and has been a member of thirteen Quadrennial General Conferences. He says he enjoys preaching as well as ever, and that his health has been so well preserved that for the last year he has failed to fill only two appointments, the failure in those cases being caused by a severe storm.

The Episcopal Church of the Atonement, Chicago, burned some days since, struggled through many difficulties, having been commenced and sustained by the indefatigable Rector, without missionary aid or parochial patronage.

Many of the religious bodies are responding to the call to send delegates to the National Temperance Convention to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, Wednesday, July 29th, 1868. It promises to be composed of ministers and laymen of the first class. Much good is expected to result from the deliberations of the body.

The Religious Telescope, in a brief notice of the editorial of the Intelligencer on "the Church," in which the Roman, Anglican and Reformed branches, are elaborately discussed, inquiries which of these fundamental ideas, if upon any of them, the organization of the United Brethren Church is based? The Telescope is the able organ of that body of Christians.

Wayland Theological Seminary, Washington City, has twenty-four students, all colored, training for the ministry. The institution is under Baptist supervision.

The first Anniversary of the Hebrew Christian Brotherhood was celebrated last Sabbath week in New York City. The annual report states that two converted Israelites, Rev. S. Cristeller and Mr. Lederer, conceived the idea of inviting the Jews to publicly discuss the subject at issue between Jews and Christians, namely: "Is Jesus of Nazareth the Messiah?" Their meetings have been the means of doing good. Four adult Jews and one child have been baptized, and five enquirers are now under Christian instruction. The receipts during the year were $2,184.75, and the disbursements $1,651.53. Drs. Crosby and Kenrick made addresses, after which Morris J. Franklin, M. D., a converted Israelite, made some remarks, when the meeting adjourned.

A movement is on foot at Brooklyn, N. Y., to establish a free and open Church Association, by some Episcopal clergymen and laity of that city, with the design of doing away with the exclusiveness of the pew renting system.

The recent action of a leading United Presbyterian Presbytery on the subject of Church union, in declining to accept the proposed basis of union with other branches of the Presbyterian family, gives what is perhaps the universal feeling of that body, that it would involve an abandonment of those principles for which they had hitherto maintained a separate organization.

The Committee of the Protestant Episcopal Convention of South Carolina, to whom was assigned the duty of gathering information with regard to the loss of Church property during the war, report at great length and in detail the result of their labors. It appears that in five parishes every Church between the Savannah river and Charleston had been destroyed or injured; that along the entire seaboard from North Carolina to Georgia, where the Church has flourished for more than a century, there are but four parishes which maintain religious services. None of the Churches outside of the city of Charleston are able fully to sustain a clergyman. Many of the clergy live by fishing, by farming and by mechanic arts.

Rev. Asa Thurston, the venerable patriarch of the American Mission to the Sandwich Islands, died not long since at Nuuanu, in the eighty-first year of his age. Mr. Thurston was a native of Fitchburgh, Mass., and a graduate of Yale College. He went out as a missionary in 1819, nearly fifty years ago. He translated a good portion of the Hawaiian Bible, and in other ways was a blessing to that people besides his ministerial duties.

THE WORK BEFORE US.

What the friends of Grant and Colfax have to accomplish, and the best way of doing it, is very plainly and forcibly stated by the New York Tribune as follows:

> The battle-ground lies in Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Ohio. The States we have estimated as certainly Republican poll the following electoral votes, viz:

Maine	5	Indiana	13
New Hampshire	5	Kansas	3
Massachusetts	12	Michigan	8
Vermont	5	Tennessee	10
Rhode Island	4	Iowa	8
Minnesota	4	Missouri	11
Wisconsin	8	Nevada	3
West Virginia	5
Illinois	16	Total	120

> If to these we add the votes of the Southern Republican States, viz.:

Arkansas	5	North Carolina	9
Florida	3	South Carolina	6
Louisiana	6
Total			29

> we have a total of 149 votes, while the required number is 150. It is certain, therefore, that the election of Grant and Colfax requires the Republican party to carry one or several of the doubtful States. Upon the heavy electoral vote of New York (23), Pennsylvania (26), and Ohio (21) depends the result of the contest. The Republican party must win if it carries either. The Democratic party may win if it carries them all.
>
> Against these advantages we have some odds to meet. We have to fight an administration headed by a President whom the Conservative wing of the Republican party nominated as a bait to catch Democratic votes, and who has dearly and deservedly punished that hypocrisy and folly; and whom the same class of Republicans timidly retain in office when the duty devolved upon them of turning him out. No political offences are punished more severely than cowardice, as the venerable Whig party died to learn. The Republican party may prepare, therefore, to meet the whole corruption power of Andrew Johnson and his 41,000 office-holders in consolidated and organized phalanx, backed by the Whisky Ring, including not only the distillers, dealers, and retailers, but the corrupt Assessors, Inspectors and Collectors, gorged with their $70,000,000 per annum, or grand total of $210,000,000 of whisky stealings, and fighting with all their ardor for continued exemption from punishment and license to rob the Government and people. These influences are strongest in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois, though in the last named we do not think they are strong enough to render the State doubtful. These men will have plenty of money and wherever there is a voter who pays no taxes or cannot read, their money will find takers at the rate of from $1 to $5 per voter. For this class political meetings rank with tar barrels, and speeches with Roman candles. The documents they circulate are greenbacks, and the argument that reaches them is whisky. What they do say in their political harrangues would be even more deleterious to a healthy stomach, because of its arrant falsehood, than the whisky because of its strychnine. Their principal means of warfare will be the rushing in of thousands of fraudulent votes.
>
> Against all these adverse influences the Republicans, cannot carry either New York, Pennsylvania, or Ohio, without thorough organization and systematic work in every county and school district, especially in every ward and precinct of our large cities. The great names of Grant and Colfax are not sufficient. Republican principles are not sufficient. The personal interests of Republican politicians and office-seekers working for their own election are not sufficient. Public meetings and speeches, and a few torchlight processions and weekly meetings of clubs, are not sufficient.
>
> It would indeed be a glorious adjunct and powerful aid in such a campaign, if the Grand Army of the Republic, the Boys in Blue, and where these organizations are not formed, the veteran soldiers of the war, acting on their own motion, should in a solid body turn out at stated intervals during the five months which will intervene before the election, and evince their determination, by the election of their most honored and successful Chief to the highest office in the gift of the people, to consummate the peace for which they fought under the leader through whom they conquered. As the Democratic party will probably place in nomination a politician whose sole merit is that he never voted a man or a dollar to carry on the war, but always denounced it in terms which if true would have been degrading to all engaged in it, the veterans of the war could in no better or wiser manner make their influence felt than by uniting in public and universal demonstrations, processions, and meetings in favor of their Chief. They began this policy at the Soldiers and Sailors Convention at Chicago, and we hope they will perfect their organization, so as to have Conventions and processions of soldiers and sailors in every town and hamlet in the country.
>
> Let there be a thorough and early organization of Clubs, appointment of committees, and canvassing and registration of voters in every town and ward. We should not delay until Fall. The Summer months must be actively improved. Many doubtful voters may be lost by being neglected till late in the campaign, or won by being early waited upon and brought within the pale of healthy influences. Individual influences will go further with the doubtful men than public meetings.

Grant, the Planner of Sherman's March.

In an address to the Philadelphia Union League the other night, Gov. Geary related the following important fact:

> On a certain occasion, when dining with Grant at Chattanooga, after the cloth had been removed, he called for his maps, which he spread before me, and said: "Sir, you and your division have been instrumental in obtaining the victories around this city. The plan for the next campaign is already formed and it is proper that you should know it. I intend to concentrate my troops around this place, and pour them on Atlanta, while a strong attack is made on Richmond. After Atlanta falls, a line will be taken for the sea shore ending either at Charleston or Savanah; and having thus made our point, we will enter the Carolinas and attack Richmond." This was in 1863 nine months before the city of Atlanta was taken. Justice should be done, and I tell you, so that you will know who it was that planned the march to the sea, and bisected the Confederacy and brought the rebellion to a termination.

EVERY VIOLATION

Of the laws of health invariably entails its own punishment, and the warnings administered by the faithful monitor (pain) cannot be neglected with impunity. If its admonitions were heeded, and the proper remedy immediately resorted to, a vast amount of suffering would be prevented, and dangerous diseases averted. When the head throbs, the lips become parched, and the cheek is burning—the warning is given; neglect is then dangerous. In the vast storehouses of nature may be found remedies for all the different maladies that afflict mankind, without resorting to pernicious minerals. The best of these medicinal agents have been incorporated in the preparation known as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and offered as a safe remedy to those suffering from the various forms of fever. This medicine has steadily and surely won its way into the confidence of the public, and has received the warmest encomiums from the press and people throughout the Union. As a valuable tonic for the cure of Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Constipation and general nervous debility, it cannot be approached. Every day new cases of its great effect are chronicled through our public journals. There is nothing equal to the enjoyment which the afflicted experience when using this valuable specific. Its mild tone, its sure and vigorous action upon a disordered stomach, and the cleansing of the entire human body, should recommend it to all classes o our community.

ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES.

DR. KEYSER says: "You want air, not physic; you want pure air, not medicated air; you want plenty of nutrition, such as plenty of meat and bread will give; physic has no nutriment; gasping for air cannot cure you; monkey capers is a gymnasium cannot cure you; and stimulants cannot cure you. If you want to get well, go in for BEEF AND OUT-DOOR AIR."—Republic.

He says further: Don't put off the first symptoms. "A little leak may sink a great ship;" a small sore in the throat, lungs or liver will soon involve the whole body. How often do we see people put off for a year or two what in the beginning could have been remedied for a trifle. The Doctor's advice is, and always has been, attend to the first symptoms of disease. Do not let the constitution become a wreck before you begin to mend; if you do, ten to one there will be no remedy. There is a remedy for every disease if taken in time. A slight sore throat or cough may be removed with comparatively little trouble; but a constitution, sinking and breaking to pieces by allowing these little troubles to accumulate is not so easy. Dr. Keyser's mode of lung sounding is unique, and as thorough as it is unique. There is not a spot or space over the whole surface of the lungs that he does not sound and investigate, and by so doing is enabled to supply the appropriate remedy.

STEAM

CARPET BEATING

ESTABLISHMENT.

Which TEN YEARS' TRIAL in New York and other Eastern cities has proved a complete success.

ITS ADVANTAGES:

1st—Fading and Shrinkage are completely avoided.

2d—No ripping apart necessary.

3d—When freed from dust, moths or their larvae, the Carpet looks nearly as good as new, save the natural fading from wear.

4th—When perfectly clean, a Carpet will wear as long again, a desirable matter as a mere point of economy, to say nothing of looks.

FOR SALE.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from this city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon-shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of

TWO TRACTS OF VALUABLE LAND.

No. 1. Situated in Conemaugh township, CAMBRIA Co., Pa., having the Pennsylvania Railroad running through it, and within five miles of Johnstown, containing 204 acres. There is on this land two workable seams of bituminous coal, 3½ and 6 feet thick. Also, a vein of superior fire clay, fully equal to the Bolivar.

No. 2. Situated in Green township, BEAVER Co., Pa., containing about 300 acres, part under fence and improved, and being within a short distance of Smith's Ferry. The land extends to the Ohio river, on which it bounds over 600 feet. It contains two seams of bituminous coal, 3½ and 4½ ft., and one of cannel coal of 6 feet thick. Also, a vein of fire clay, suitable to the manufacture of fire brick.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 4, 1868.

Gold is still unsettled; the reduction in the shipments of coin to Europe has had a favorable influence, and if it did not depress the premium materially, it at least prevented an advance, which was inevitable unless the Government would attempt to keep down quotations by selling part of its reserve. The shipments of grain from the Southern States has just commenced, and will supply the market with commercial paper, thus avoiding large shipments of specie out of the country.

The market in Government securities was much depressed, and offers to sell are increasing. So soon as the market depended on the speculative buyers supported by country orders, an advance was certain, but the premium now is so high that it must certainly be a very timid investor who cannot find profitable investment for his capital elsewhere. During the time the Government was a borrower from the people in the form of issueing bonds, it was a virtue of the loyal citizens to pupport the Government by taking these bonds in preference to other investments, but now it would be nothing else but sustaining speculators and speculative banks.

The Central Pacific Railroad has now raised its bonds to 113, and the Union is nearly the same by declining to sell coupons. Stocks are dull and lower; the heaviest decline was in Fort Wayne, which touched 109½. Express stocks are steady and mining ahares improving.

Business inactive and money scarce. A large amount of notes are now making for four and six months, but it requires a house to be first-rate, otherwise as much as two per cent. a month is asked and accepted. No business man ought to give paper at this time having such a long period to run, unless it be the old established custom, for metal, which requires more time to realize.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 139⅞; 1881 bonds, 116½; 1862 5-20s, 112¼; 1864 do, 110¼; 1865 do, 110⅛; Consols, 113; 10-40s, 106; 7-30s, 109⅝.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 86¾; Fort Wayne, 110¾; North Western, common 68½; North Western—preferred, 81; New York Central, 132¼; Erie, 69½; Old Southern, 89⅜; Ohio & Mississippi, 29⅞; Merchants Union Express, 28; Western Union Telegraph, 38¼. Mining Shares—Corydon 32; Quartz Hill, 115; Quicksilver, 26.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET,

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 5, 1868.

The week's business in crude irons have been light, with but little change in prices during the week. The market may be quoted firm at the present figures. Most holders expect an advance, owing to the fact that several furnaces are out of blast.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFIFCE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 5, 1868.

The general markets continue dull and devoid of any new features, with the exception of a little stronger feeling in Flour and Grain, under the influence of the advices from Chicago.

BUTTER—Continues very dull and neglected, notwithstanding the arrivals are by no means large. We can report small sales of prime fresh Roll at 18 to 20c. The hot weather has a tendency to restrict the demand.

EGGS—Less active under the influence of increased arrivals, two firms alone having received fifty barrels. We continue to give 23c as the standard price, though they are not brisk at that figure.

HAY—Weighmaster McNulty at the Allegheny Diamond Scales, reports sales of 58 loads of Hay at $16 to $22; 2 loads Straw at $18; and 1 load Corn Husks at 3½c per pound. Baled Hay is in good supply and dull at $15 to $20 per ton.

GRAIN—Wheat is dull and depressed, notwithstanding the advance in Chicago, and the mills are buying sparingly at $2,45 to $2,48 for Red, and 5 to 8c higher for White. Oats dull but steady at 82 to 83c on wharf, and 84 to 85c in store. Corn is quiet and unchanged. Sale of 300 sacks prime White at $1,07½; prime Yellow in Ear sells readily at $1,09 to $1,10. Rye is dull and cannot be quoted above $1,70 to $1,75. No movement in Barley.

DRIED FRUIT--Is very dull with a supply largely in excess of the demand, but unchanged. Small sales at 6¼ to 7½c for Apples, and 12 to 13c for Peaches.

POTATOES—Peach Blows are still quoted at $1,35 to $1,40 per bushel, for small lots in store. Sales of new Potatoes from South Carolina at $9 per bbl.

SALT—Is dull and nominal at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, aad $2 for small lots in store.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged; 14c for Shoulders; 16c to 18c and 18½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 19¼ to 19½c for Plain, and 20 to 20½c for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendered Lard, 18¾ to 19c. Mess Pork, $28,50 to $29.

LARD OIL—Is dull and tending downward, in sympathy with Lard, though, as yet, not quotably lower; we continue to quote Extra No. 1 at $1,50, and No. 2 at $1,25.

FLCUR—Is a shade firmer, though there is no perceptible improvement in the demand. We continue to quote at $10,50 to $11 for Spring Wheat; $11,75 to $12,25 for Winter Wheat, and $14 to $15 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $10.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 5, 1868.

CRUDE—The market was considerably excited to-day, so much so that there was not a single sale of spot oil effected. We give 11¼ to 11½c as the ruling quotations, with but very little offering, though it is equally true, that, as yet, buyers are not very numerous at the advance. We can report a sale of 5,000 bbls from August to December, 1,000 each month, at 12c, and 4,000 from September to December, 1,000 each month, at the same figure. The subject of production is again being agitated considerably, and with considerable feeling, one faction arguing that it is falling off, while another is equally as persistent that it is increasing. On this point, the Titusville Herald says that the daily average production of oil for the month of May, was 9,790 barrels, and for the first-three days of June, 10,635, an increase in the daily average of 1,500 over April 30th. Having said this much, we shall stop, less we might be accused of being an interested party, which is not the case.

REFINED—The market for Refined was even more excited than crude, and notwithstanding a still further advance, there were no sellers, and as a consequence, we have not a single sale to report. Spot oil was quoted at 28¼ to 28⅜c; last half June at 29c; first half July at 29½c; and last half at 29¾ to 30c. After getting the above quotations, we heard a prominent operator offer 30c for the last half of June; whether the offer was made for a particular purpose, or whether he really wanted to buy, we cannot state; it seemed however, to be regarded as being somewhat above the market.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

Roess & Bro.	1200	Clark & Sumner.	640
Mawhinney & B.	850	Buffum & Kehew	160
Leech & Woods.	1600	Fisher & Bro.	3700

PITTSBURGH DRUG MARKET.

OFFICE CF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 5, 1868.

We note an advance of 50c on the Concentrated Lye of the Pennsylvania Salt Company. Sulphate Quinine is 15c higher than in our last review. Spirits Turpentine has continued to decline, and is now quoted at 67 to 70c by the barrel. Linseed Oil is dull in the west, but our manufactures have no yet made any reduction in their quotations, and are offering it in lots of from one to five barrels at $1,20 to $1,23 per gallon.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE WEIGHT OF A TEAR.

A pair of scales before him—
A rich man sat and weighed
A piece of gold—a widow's all,
And unto her he said:

"Your coin is not the proper weight,
So take it back again,
Or sell it to me for half its worth—
It lacks a single grain."

With tearful eye the widow said:
"O, weigh it, sir, once more;
I pray you be not so exact,
Nor drive me from your door."

"Why, see yourself, it's under weight:
Your tears are of no avail."
The second time he tries it,
It just bears down the scale.

But little guessed that rich man,
Who held his gold so dear,
That the extra weight that bore it down
Had been the widow's tear.

Conversion of the Jews.

A few days ago a conference was held in Chicago, to consult upon missionary work among the Jews of that city. The Advocate, the new religious paper in Chicago, says:

Several of the Jews of the city, seeing the notice in the papers, attended, and Mr. Henry Greenbaum, a well known banker, requested permission to say a few words, and was gladly heard. He said his object was to correct the idea that many seemed to have, that the Jews were an irreligious, godless class of the community. This was a great mistake. They numbered in Chicago about nine thousand, of whom six thousand were regularly enrolled as members of the six congregations now organized in the city, and were characterized by an intelligent regard for their religion.

They were progressive in their ideas, having organs and choirs and other customary aids to worship, and using prayers in English and German, to avoid mere lip service, as the Hebrew prayers were not generally understood. They had lately built a hospital, open to all, at a cost of $30,000, the money for which was raised in two days, and they expended annually for religious purposes about $60,000. He had no reason to complain of their treatment by others, and they, in turn, had the kindest feelings towards their christian brethren. Indeed he himself gave $25 recently toward the furnishing of Mr. Moody's house. He held Jesus in high estimation, as he did Moses and Washington, for the purity of his life and teachings, though he did not believe in his divinity. The Jews thought that all the righteous would be saved whether Jews or Gentiles.

He had just returned from a trip to Europe, and thought the English Jews the most ignorant and degraded of any, so that it was not surprising that conversions to Christianity were reported among them. It would be found, on inquiry, that three-fourths of the pickpockets in New York City are English Jews. "Establish your mission among them," said Mr. G., "and make Christians of them, or even Mohammedans, and we will not complain; but you will waste your efforts in Chicago, at least upon those who are trained in the knowledge of our faith, which we have now preserved amid all perils and temptations for 4,000 years! A few converts, one way or the other, prove nothing. I can think now of six proselytes from Christianity to Judaism, in this city, though we are slow to receive such. We shall treat Mr. Schwartz with courtesy, but his labors will be in vain.

Chinese Slavery in San Francisco.

The San Francisco Bulletin says: "Another instance of the manner in which certain classes of Chinamen maintain a system of slavery here has just been brought to the attention of the courts. Some time since a Chinese actor of this city named Ah Quang returned to his own country, and just before his departure on the last steamer from Hong Kong for this city he became acquainted with a married woman whose husband was in this State. Ah Quang told her he was well acquainted with her husband in this city, and offered to act as her protector on the voyage, and to assist her till she should find her husband. She paid her own passage on the steamer and came here. Arrived in this city, Ah Quang imprisoned her and placed her in the keeping of an old Chinawoman, who threatened her and finally beat her most brutally. Recently a Chinaman came down from Oregon who wished to obtain a Chinawoman to assist his wife. He met Ah Quang, who, it is stated, sold the captive woman to him for three hundred dollars, and arrangements were made for her to go in the steamer to Oregon. When the facts were made known to her she refused absolutely to go with the man who had purchased her, and by some means got information of her condition to one of the Chinese companies. A warrant was soon issued for the arrest of Ah Quang. The woman was found shut up in a close room and badly bruised about the face and head. Ah Quang was arrested and is in jail, and his intended victim is in the care of the police."

Daily Life of the Pope.

A correspondent of a French paper describes his visit to the Pope. He says that the Holy Father is rather tall and stout. The furniture of his private room is a square table with three chairs, including an arm chair for himself. The room is small, with a low ceiling, without window curtains, and walled with cheap paper. His bedroom has yellow curtains, a brick floor, without carpet, and a little iron bedstead, without curtains.

He rises at six, shaves, says his mass in a little private chapel, and then hears another. At eight he drinks a cup of chocolate, and half an hour later receives his ministers until half-past ten. Audiences are then given until one o'clock. At two he dines, very frugally, and subsequently takes a nap till three, when he reads his breviary, and at half-past five takes a drive in a carriage drawn by four horses, with two priests. On the outskirts of the city he sometimes alights from his carriage and walks.

Upon his return he gives audiences until ten, and then sups. He retires to bed at eleven.

Though advanced in years, the Pope sings very well, and plays upon the violincello.

The only European language he is said to speak, beside Italian, is French, and in doing so betrays a strong accent.

The National Emigration Bill.

A bill was introduced in the House of Representatives on Monday, and referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, for the establishment of United States agencies in Europe for the promotion of emigration to this country. It provides for the appointment of one salaried Commissioner for Great Britain, Ireland, Germany, Austria, Denmark, and Norway, respectively, who shall disseminate information and statistics relative to the several States and Territories, make contracts with steamboat and railway companies to reduce the cost of transportation to emigrants, and open offices at central points for the exhibition of agricultural, mineral, and other products of the United States. The Government is not to be liable for any contracts for transportation of emigrants, and the Commissioners are to report annually to the Secretary of State.—N. Y. Advertiser.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS.

MARRIED WOMEN, or those of them rather who own property in their own right, seem to be a source of perpetual trouble to the courts of Pennsylvania. It has just been decided that a married woman may not sell stock without her husband's consent, although his signature as a witness on the certificate of transfer has been ruled to as evidence of assent. This ruling shuts the doors of the exchange and gold board to the sex.

LOCOMOTIVE engineers receive more pay usually on coal-burning than on wood-burning engines, on account of the great heat suffered and the injury to health from the gas emitted. Great care is required in watching a coal-engine. It is with them that a majority of the explosions take place. If any obstruction exists between the water-tank and the boiler, water cannot be pumped from the former, and an explosion ensues.

A VALUABLE discovery has just been made in Venango county, the land of oil. A vein of lead ore has been struck, which, it is said, yields sixty-eight per cent. of lead and eighteen per cent. of silver. Although the location of the vein is not given, we are informed there is an old tradition of a silver mine having been known to the Indians near where the ore was found.

ONE of the towers of a new church at Breslau, 282 feet in height, recently fell with a tremendous crash, leaving the other tower in such a state that it is doubtful whether it will stand. The church, which had been erected by the Bishop, cost $225,000, of which $75,000 was spent upon the towers. Fortunately, no person was injured.

A SMALL scandal is going the rounds of the semi-official world of Paris. A lady belonging to the "budget department" lately appeared in a dress which was absolutely decolletee jusqu au la ceinture. The lady of the house required of this mermaid that she should throw something over her shoulders, and the guest departed in wrath.

Robbery at the Mansion House.

Yesterday (Friday) morning, a robbery was perpetrated at the Mansion House in this city by some light fingered fellow who is evidently familiar with his business. Samuel Anderson, a lumber merchant from Brookville, Jefferson county, this State, came to the city ou Thursday evening, en route for the west, and having some business to transact before leaving the city, put up at the Mansion House, intending to leave next morning. About nine o'clock in the evening he expressed a desire to retire for the night and was in company with a Mr. A. J. Johnson shown to a room. There were two beds in the room, and upon retiring Mr. Anderson placed his pants, in the pocket of which was his pocket book containing $755, under his pillow. Mr. Johnson occupied the bed near the door, and between five and six o'clock next morning he was aroused by a slight noise. Upon opening his eyes he discovered a man leaving Anderson's bed. He asked him what he wanted, but received no answer. The man passed out of the room, and Mr. Johnson, as appears from his statement, got up and followed him to the door, but could see nothing of him. When Mr. Anderson awoke he discovered that his pants had been removed from under the pillow and were lying on the floor, and his pocket-book and money were gone. Mr. Johnson gave a description of the man he had seen in the room at the Mayor's office, and Cyrus Trump, a young man who had been about the hotel for several days, and answered the description, was arrested. Information was made against him for larceny, and after a partial hearing before Acting Mayor Butler, he was held for a further hearing this morning.

Another Victim.

The "confidence" operators are still at work, and it seems have no difficulty in finding material to work upon. Yesterday afternoon a gentleman from the West was swindled out of $950 in a manner which would induce one to believe him a fit subject for a lunatic asylum. According to his statement he was met on the street by the "well dressed gentleman," who accosted him in the usual way, and soon struck up a friendly acquaintance. The victim having some business to do in a dry goods store on Fifth street, went in and was followed by the victimizer, who, in the presence of the victim, purchased a bill of goods, which he did not have sufficient money to pay for. He produced a check on the Fourth National Bank, of Indianapolis, Indiana, for $1,394, which he had intended to have cashed, but neglected to do so until after banking hours, and proposed to give it to the victim for $950, as he needed that amount of money that evening. His proposition was accepted, the money given in exchange for the check, which it is needless to say was worthless. He discovered the fraud shortly afterwards, but too late to recover his $950. He left the city on the night train for his home, where we would advise him to stay until he acquires a sufficient amount of common sense to take care of his money and not allow himself to be duped by such shabby tricks.

The Fire Alarm Telegraph.

The Committee on Engines, in connection with S. T. Paisley, Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph, made a view of the city, Thursday, relative to the location of the ten additional fire alarm boxes, the arrival of which was noticed some days since, and decided to locate them as follows:

No. 15, corner of Hay street and Duquesne Way.
" 67, " " Penn and Wilson streets.
" 71, " " " " Butler "
" 72, " " Wainwright and Butler streets.
" 73, " " Borough and Butler streets.
" 74, " " Bellefontaine and Butler streets.
" 75, " " Mill and Butler streets.
" 76, " " Brady street and Penn'a avenue.
" 81, " " Kirkpatrick street and Centre ave.
" 82, " " Miner street and Centre avenue.

A gong of the same pattern of those in use in other engine houses will be placed in the Lawrence engine house as soon as the building is completed, and a police dial instrument will be located in the office of Alderman James L. Irwin, on Butler street, near Allen, Lawrenceville.

There are now forty alarm boxes in use, independent of the above ten, which makes fifty in all, and others will be located as rapidly as the outlying districts are sufficiently populative as to make them necessary.

The telegraph has proved the most complete success of any modern improvement introduced by the city fathers, and has doubtless prevented the destruction of millions of dollars' worth of property.

Traveling Thieves.

Thursday evening five colored women, who were traveling along the old Washington Road towards the city, called at the house of William Simpson and asked for something to eat. Mrs. S. prepared supper for them, and after having dispatched it they took their departure. Shortly after they left the house a shawl and several other articles of clothing were missing, and a little daughter of Mrs. S. started in pursuit of the women, thinking they had, perhaps, taken the articles in mistake. She overtook them a short distance from the house and when she asked for the missing articles one of the "wenches" drew a knife and threatened to kill her if she did not leave them. The little girl was frightened and returned home, and there being no man about the house the thieves got away with their plunder.

Wanted His Shirt.

Robert Wilson, of Allegheny, having occasion to put on a clean shirt a few evenings since, went to his trunk, but, alas, there was no clean linen there. He immediately repaired to the residence of his wash woman, Esther Henry, who resides on Balkam street, but when he arrived there the lady was absent and the doors locked. As it was a matter of necessity that he should have the shirt, and knowing his shirts were there, he procured a key, unlocked the door, took a shirt and left. Mrs. H. returned home some time afterwards, and missing the shirt, learned by some means that Wilson had been there and taken it, whereupon she made information before Alderman Bailie, charging him with larceny. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

City Mortality.

Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician of the Board of Health, makes the following report of the interments in the city from May 24th to May 31st:

Diseases—Pneumonia, 1; drowned, 1; disease of heart, 1: typhoid fever, 2; inflammation of stomach, 1; bronchitis, 1; congestion of lungs, 2; convulsions, 3; inanition, 1; cerebro spinal meninigitis, 1; consumption, 2. Total, 16.

Of the above there were under one year, 4; from one to two years, 3; from five to ten years, 1; from ten to fifteen years, 1; from twenty to thirty years, 4; from thirty to forty years, 1; from forty to fifty years, 1; from fifty to sixty years, 1. Of these there were males, 10; females, 6; white, 15; colored, 1.

On a Strike.—Several hands employed in the tack factory belonging to the Norway Iron Works Company, at Wheeling went on a strike yesterday. They demand Pittsburgh prices, and refuse to work until their demands are acceded to.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

The case of the United States vs. Arthur Ballou is progressing, and from appearances will occupy the remainder of this and part of next week.

In the bankruptcy branch, T. J. Fisher & Co. filed a petition against David W. Phillips & Bro., of Scranton. Usual order made. S. A. Boyle & Co., Philadelphia, filed a petition against L. and B. Hauck, Union county. Usual order.

Final Discharge—Arthur W. Greer, Cambria county; Jasper Slaymaker, Sunbury; Reuben Fagely, Shamoken; J. Ross Thompson, George W. Orth, Washington county; Joseph Steel, Armstrong county.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

In the case of Stewart Sampson, charged with assault and battery, on oath of Christopher Strealy, the jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

Jacques Meagle plead guilty to a charge of larceny preferred against him by a little negress, named Lillie McDonald, an occupant of "Fort Maloney." The prisoner was remanded for sentence.

Stewart Sampson, the individual convicted, as mentioned above, of assault and battery, was arraigned upon a similar charge, preferred by John and William Rice, father and son. The offence was committed on the 4th of last month, at Rice's house, in East Liberty, and both of the prosecutors appear to have been badly used up. No witnesses were offered for the defense, and a verdict of guilty was rendered, as before. There were also charges of surety against the same defendant by the same prosecutors. Sentence deferred.

Two boys, named Jacob Parr and John Stoufer, were next placed on trial, for the larceny of a lot of lumber, belonging to the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company. The lumber was stolen from the Allegheny river, at Natrona. The boys were seen in a skiff in the river in the vicinity, and after their arrest Parr acknowledged that he cut the lumber loose, and that he intended to make a "raise." Nothing was shown against Stoufer. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty as to Stoufer, and guilty as to Parr, with a recommendation to the mercy of the court. The court sentenced Parr to twenty-four hours further imprisonment in the county jail, and ordered both to enter their own recognizances for their future good behavior.

Geo. Edwards, of East Deer township, was arraigned upon a charge of assault and battery. Thos. Clarke was the prosecutor. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and directed that each party pay one-half the costs.

At twelve o'clock the Court adjourned because of the non-appearance of parties to suits. The Court directed that the bail of absentees be forfeited, and that processes be issued to compel their attendance.

Mr. John G. Brown, Clerk of the Court, desires us to say that if committing magistrates would properly endorse informations the business would be very greatly facilitated. He experiences some difficulty in finding where parties reside, because of the omission on the part of magistrates.

Court of Common Pleas—Judge Sterrett.

In the case of Elias Cashdollar vs. Rich's Administrator, reported yesterday, the jury found for plaintiff for $508.

Wm. Farley vs. John McMahon. Jury out.

Adolph Rodelheimer vs Wm. Hageman. When this case was concluded and the jury was ready to retire, the jury in the previous case not having returned, the court ordered an intermission until two o'clock, p. m. All the jurors not engaged in cases were discharged from further attendance.

A Change of Base.

The Commercial of a recent date contained the following paragraph: "The numerous friends of Mr. James E. Burns will be gratified to know that he has promoted himself from the employ of Jos. Fleming, Druggist, where he was long and favorably known as confidential and prescription clerk, to a store of his own on the corner of Penn and St. Clair streets. Having formed a co-partnership with Mr. Milton J. Caughey, these gentlemen have opened one of the finest drug stores in the city. They have a large and complete stock of entirely new and fresh drugs, chemicals, perfumery, toilet articles and liquors of every description, pure and unadulterated. They keep also for the accommodation of their friends a lot of the choicest cigars.

Being among the number of their friends, we assure the public they will find it to their advantage to visit their new and splendid store, corner Penn and St. Clair streets."

In publishing the above we can add our testimony to the high charcter of the gentlemen who have embarked in business on their own account. They are fair dealing, painstaking and competent, and are worthy the large share of trade which has already been directed towards them. Their store is one of the handsomest and best stocked in the city, and is destined to become the popular headquarters for drugs, medicines and perfumers. We heartily commend them to the patronage of our readers knowing them to be eminently worthy of confidence.

A First Class Establishment.

From time to time we have directed the attention of our readers to the plumbing, gas and steam fitting establishment of Thomas T. Ewens, No. 165 Wood street, near Sixth. Mr. Ewens has long held a front rank in his business, and has been favored with a large share of the public patronage. A careful and practical mechanic himself, and devoting his entire attention to the work entrusted to his care, he has ever proven worthy of the public trade. He has on hand in his salesroom a fine assortment of gas fixings, which embrace everything in that line. The stock of pumps, suitable for the country trade, will be found unusually large and well selected, comprising all the improved styles introduced. These Mr. Ewens will erect on the most reasonable terms in any part of the country. He likewise attends to all orders for work in the rural districts in the promptest and most faithful manner. Steam fitting is made a specialty, and all work of this character performed is warranted to prove satisfactory. For any and everything in his way, either in materials or work, we can cheerfully commeud Mr. Ewens to our readers.

The Diamond Front Grocery.

At the large, well conducted and judiciously managed grocery and produce house of Messrs McBride & George, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny, our readers will find a very desirable stock of choice family groceries, teas and general provisions at the lowest prices. This house has managed, through good goods, popular prices and generous dealing with customers, to build up a large patronage, which is daily increasing. Their stock is kept always up to the requirements of the day, and cannot fail to please all who call.

Jennie Barnett, a "nymph," was arrested Thursday evening, on Liberty street, near the Rush House, dressed in male "toggery," and conveyed to the watch house. She had started out on a "bender," and donned the breeches to avoid attracting attention. The officer, however, detected the disguise and spoiled her fun. She had been in custody but a short time when a particular friend came in and deposited thirty dollars as security for Jennie's appearance in the morning. Jennie failed to come at the appointed time and the thirty was forfeited. The friend also failed to put in an appearance.

Amusements.

LA RUE'S MINSTRELS.—The celebrated Carnival Minstrels continue to draw large houses. It is one of the largest and best troupe of minstrels now travelling in this country. Their entertainments are excellent, as all who have attended the Opera House since their arrival here will fully attest. Their music, both vocal and instrumental, is of the very best quality, and the delineation of negro character is unapproachable. The enterprise of distributing $100 in greenbacks to the audience is a new feature and a decidedly popular one. Last night E. B. Sternman, of the St. Charles Hotel, held the ticket which drew the $25, and Mr. J. C. Bragans, of Brookville, Crawford county, drew the $50 prize. At the Matinee this afternoon $50 will be distributed to the lucky ticket holders.

THEATRE.—Fred Aims, the popular manager of the Theater Comique, is having a good run at his establishment, and he is fully deserving of it. His company is a most excellent one, and the entertainments the best of the class ever presented in this city. Several new features will be presented at the Matinee this afternoon.

MORTGAGES.

Same day nine mortgages filed of record.

Economy is Wealth.

To all who desire to become wealthy by the practice of economy, we would say attend the great sale of boots, shoes and dry goods which is now going on at the Masonic Hall Auction Rooms, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street. The proprietors, Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, are gentlemanly and accommodating, as are all the attaches of the establishment. The goods sold by this firm are always what they are represented to be, and consequently give general satisfaction to purchasers.

Grand Private Sale.

This day will be devoted by Messrs. Smithson, Vanhook & M'Clelland, of the mammoth Masonic Hall Auction House, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, to private sales, offering their large stock of boots, shoes and gaiters, carpets, silver ware, dry goods, &c., at prices lower than has ever before been offered in this city. The goods are all first class, and patrons can depend on getting at private sale much greater bargains than have hitherto been knocked down under the hammer at public sale.

A Sample Seller in Wheeling.

We clip the following notice of the arrest of a Pittsburgher in Wheeling, for selling goods by sample, from the Wheeling Intelligencer of Thursday:

"FINED.—Mr. J. W. Eberhart, a gentleman from Pittsburgh, engaged in the business of selling goods by sample, without license, was arrested yesterday and brought before Judge Johnston. The case was a clear one and Eberhart was taxed six dollars and costs. For such a violation of law the penalty was extremely light. Had one of our enterprising merchants been brought up in Pittsburgh on such a charge, the fine would have been six dollars multiplied by a score or two."

Runaway.—Thursday afternoon, about one o'clock, a horse attached to a light wagon, belonging to Kohen & Co., Allegheny, was carelessly left standing on Centre avenue, at the corner of Roberts street, while the driver went into a house near by. During his absence the horse took fright and ran down the avenue, at a killing pace, and when in front of Mr. Alex. M'Ilwaine's residence, in attempting to pass a street car, ran into the fence, breaking it down, demolishing the buggy and slightly injuring the horse.

Protestant Episcopal.—The annua Convention of Clerical and Lay Delegates of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the diocese of Pittsburgh, embracing twenty-four counties in Western Pennsylvania, will assemble on Tuesday morning, the 9th inst., in Trinity Church, in this city. Right Rev. Bishop Kerfoot will preside. These diocesan councils rarely sit more than two or three days, and are usually quite interesting.

Large Water Pipe.—The twenty inch water pipe which is to be laid on Penn street from Smith, to extend through Lawrenceville, is being delivered on the ground. It is said to be an excellent quality of pipe. The work of laying it will be commenced in a few days, unless it is decided to raise the grade of the street, which should be done now, as it will have to be raised eventually, beyond a doubt.

Teachers' Permanent Certificates.—The Committee to endorse applications for permanent certificates to the teachers of Allegheny county will meet on Tuesday morning at the office of the City Superintendent, High School building. Applicants are required to be present, as they cannot take out permanent certificates unless they personally appear before this Committee, whose action is final.

Disorderly Conduct.—Mary Jane Hall made information before Alderman Strain yesterday, charging Julia Warren with disorderly conduct. The parties reside in Weaver's court, off Tunnel street, Third ward. Julia, it appears, was slightly intoxicated and becoming noisy and disorderly in the court, she was arrested and after a hearing was discharged on payment of costs.

Assaulted.—Lewis Sims made information before Alderman Mullin, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, yesterday, charging John Schniffel, Sr., and John Schniffel, Jr., with assault. He alleges that John, Sr., drew a hatchet and threatened to split his head open, and the younger John threatened him with a sledge hammer. The accused were arrested and held for a hearing.

Church Dedication.—The newly erected house of worship of the Emsworth Presbyterian congregation, (near Fleming Station, on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad,) will be dedicated to morrow morning at 11 o'clock. Sermon by Rev. James M. Platt, of Leetsdale. Services will also be held at 4 o'clock P. M. by the Rev. E. E. Swift, of Allegheny.

The work of grading Crawford street, from the avenue to Reed street, is progressing rapidly, and will be completed in a few days.

Water Street.—Workmen are engaged in repairing the paving on Water street, from Smithfield to Ross, which was in very bad condition.

Wiley's Diamond Front Boot and Shoe House, 63 Fifth street, cheapest house in America. Everything new of the latest style.

Best Goods for least money, at Diamond Front, 63 Fifth street.

Billiard Match.

A billiard match for a purse of $200 and the championship of Western Pennsylvania was played last night before a large audience at the Broadway Billiard Hall, in East Birmingham, between Messrs. Daniel S. O'Connor and W. Dodds. The game was a thousand points on a carom table, and some of the most brilliant executions with cue and ball ever witnessed in this city marked the contest. There were eighteen innings, when the game was won by Mr. O'Connor. The following good scores were made by Dodds: 50, 82, 65, 54, 56, while O'Connor counted as follows: 151, 116, 81, 78, 64, etc. More than two thousand dollars changed hands on the result, and in addition to Mr. O'Connor receiving the purse he has earned the championship of Western Pennsylvania.

Malicious Mischief.—Mrs. Wilson, residing on Water alley, Allegheny, made information before Alderman Neillie, yesterday, charging James Hood with malicious mischief. She alleges that the accused came to her house Thursday night and demanded admittance, which was refused, whereupon he kicked the door down. Hood was arrested and taken to the Alderman's office, where the matter was compromised, Hood paying for the door and the costs.

Afraid of a Shark.—Michael Dorh appeared before Alderman Mullin, of Allegheny, yesterday, and made information, in which he alleged that Philip Shark had threatened to do him violence and that he was afraid he would carry his threats into execution. The Alderman issued a warrant for the Shark, and if he is found to be as dangerous as Michael represents him to be he will be held for surety of the peace.

A Nuisance Abated.—Street Commissioner Hunter made information before Acting Mayor Butler yesterday, charging Jacob Brillaugh & Co., mineral water manufacturers on Third street, with maintaining a nuisance by allowing the refuse substances from their establishment to flow into the street. The defendants were arrested, and after a hearing were fined and ordered to abate the nuisance forthwith.

Assault and Battery.—Daniel Wilkinson was arrested yesterday and taken before Alderman Taylor, charged with assault and battery, on oath of Cornelius McFilley, who alleged that the accused came to his house, in Mulberry alley, and without cause or provocation struck him with his fist. After a hearing the case was compromised, the defendant paying the costs.

Seasonable Goods.—The pic nic season is at hand and in preparation for it Messrs. Bates & Bell, No. 21 Fifth street, have in store a very elegant stock of of light dress goods suitable for the season. Their entire stock presents unusual variety and selection and will please the most fastidious, while their prices are amongst the most reasonable.

Grading and Paving.—The work of grading Centre avenue, from Dinwiddie to Kirkpatrick street, has been commenced, in consequence of which the street is blockaded between these points. Green and Duncan streets have been repaired however, in order to accommodate the travel until the avenue is paved.

Discharged—John Lutz, the boy who we stated, yesterday, was charged with the larceny of a pocket book containing $794,30, in West Pittsburgh, was arrested and taken before Alderman Butler, who after a hearing, discharged him, the evidence being insufficient to hold him for trial.

Horse Stolen.—Chief Bowden, of the Allegheny police, received a dispatch yesterday from John Forrest, of Enon Valley, stating that a valuable horse had been stolen from his stable Thursday night, and that he had been brought toward Allegheny City.

Surety of the Peace.—Ellen Wilkinson made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday against Cornelius McFilly for surety of the peace, alleging that he threatened to do her grevious bodily harm. Cornelius was arrested, and upon payment of costs was discharged.

False Pretense.—Evan Jones, charged on oath of Jane Thomas with obtaining boarding to the amount of $16 under false pretense, was arrested and taken before Alderman Thomas, who, after a hearing, held him to bail to answer at Court.

Progressing.—The work on the spire of the Evangelical German Lutheran Church on High street is progressing towards completion slowly. The brick work was finished yesterday, and the frame for the top of the spire is partly finished.

Fornix Et Cet.—Corneilous McFollery, made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday, charging Ellen Wilkinson, with fornix et cet. Ellen was arrested, and after a partial hearing the case was settled, the defendant paying the costs.

Fifth Street.—The Nicolson pavement will be completed on Fifth street, from Smithfield to Wood, to-day, and if the weather continues favorable that part of the street from Wood to Market will be paved the coming week.

A very good stock of dry goods and housekeeping materials will be offered at private sale, cheap, to all patrons at Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland's Auction Salesrooms, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

New and second-handed books of all descriptions and of best standard authors, in Latin, English, German and French, at the popular literary depot of Col. J. D. Eagan, Sixth street, near Smithfield.

Locust Street.—The Water Committee are putting an eight-inch pipe on Locust street. There is already a four-inch pipe, but the street has been filled over it until it is at present thirty feet below the surface.

Legal Blank Paper in endless variety at Col. J. D. Egan's, Sixth street, near Smithfield, together with a large assortment of general stationery, at very reasonable prices.

For Summer.—Gentlemen will find the nicest and cheapest line of underwear, socks, handkerchiefs, etc., at Cree Bros., 26 Fifth, as well as the celebrated star shirt which they make to order.

The rarest books, the most enticing stationery, the largest collection of periodicals and magazines will be found at the store of Col. J. D. Egan, Sixth street, near Smithfield. Prices very reasonable.

Another Testimony of Skill.

I have been troubled with a very severe pain in the stomach. I have tried nearly everything I heard of, but could not get permanent relief, but since I began Dr. Aborn's medicines I feel nearly as well as ever. I have not felt so well for years. I have gained very much in flesh, at least ten pounds within one month.
